EXT. FOG BANK AND SEA - NIGHT (H-S)

1 FULL SHOT WATER (DAY) (NIGHT FILTER)
A pale moon glows faintly through the fog bank, now outlined against the dark sky, then nearly obscured by drifting patches of mist. Sound of the waves lapping, and the muffled clang of ship's bell some distance off at intervals of four or five seconds. As the moon shows for a moment through a break in the fog bank, the shadow of a huge bird passes slowly across it, the great wings outspread. The fog closes over again; the ship's bell sounds, slightly closer. (NOTE: If use ship at sea, have prow sail toward camera).

NARRATOR'S VOICE
(through echo chamber)
To a man out of the distant past we live in a world of unbelievable magic... At a touch of our fingers we produce light, heat, or sound. Men travel swiftly through the air and beneath the sea. We speak with friends thousands of miles away through a tiny wire... Familiar things, yet fantastic. Thus, when we enter the realm of the distant past, we must accept the strange wonders of that time.

During last lines of narration, the bow of a ship looms through the fog, its masts outlined faintly against the glowing mist.

EXT. QUARTER-DECK OF SHIP (S)

2 CLOSE SHOT SINBAD AT THE WHEEL
He stands erect, holding the wheel firmly, peering into the fog.

NARRATOR'S VOICE
For in the time of the Arabian Nights and the great adventurer, Sinbad the Sailor, there were creatures and marvels beyond our imagination... And the strangest

CAMERA MOVES IN to HOLD BIG CLOSEUP of Sinbad as TITLES and CREDITS BEGIN TO COME ACROSS.

EXT. QUARTER-DECK OF SHIP - NIGHT (FOG) (S)

CLOSE SHOT SINBAD AT WHEEL
Same as previous shot. Sinbad, still peering into the fog, senses something.

SINBAD

Harufa...!

HARUFA, the first mate, comes up. He is a big, barrel-chested man with a mat of black hair and a curly black beard.

SINBAD
(continuing)
Sound for a depthi

Harufa gives Sinbad a look of astonishment.

HARUFA
A sounding...here? Aye, Captain.

He picks up the lead line and moves to the rail, as the CAMERA PANS with him onto THREE SAILORS grouped nearby.
Their appearance is gaunt and worn, suggesting that they have passed through much hardship on this voyage. They, too, are looking askance at Sinbad.

ALI
(grumbling)
Does he expect land here...past the very end of the earth?

GAUNT SAILOR
His own belly is as empty as ours.
Perhaps hunger has crazed his mind --

ALI
If there was land, it would be such as no man would dare to set foot upon.
CONTINUED:

GAUNT SAILOR

Sinbad would... He dares anything.

HARUFA'S VOICE

(calling excitedly)

Captain!

All eyes turn to Harufa at the rail.

CLOSE SHOT HARUFA (S)

astonishment on his face. He holds up the lead line.

HARUFA

Full fathom seven!

CLOSE SHOT SINBAD (S)

He looks up to the crow's-nest.

SINBAD

(calling)

Sharp lookout aloft there!

CLOSE SHOT SAILOR #4 IN CROW'S-NEST (S)

SAILOR #4

(shouting down toward deck)

Aye, Captain!

MEDIUM SHOT THE THREE CREWMEN (S)

The third sailor, an African, turns pale.

AFRICAN SAILOR

What can it be?

ALI

Perhaps... a sunken reef...

GAUNT SAILOR

Or...a sea-monster...or something worse...

HARUFA'S VOICE

Full fathom...five!

AFRICAN SAILOR

(prayerfully)

Oh... Let it be land.
Scene 7 Omitted

8 CLOSE SHOT SINBAD AT WHEEL (S)
peering hard to starboard.

SINBAD
Land ho...off the starboard bow!

9 MEDIUM SHOT THE CREWMEN (S)
They crane their necks to get a glimpse of the land still hidden by the fog and darkness.

AFRICAN SAILOR
He has the eyes of an owl... I see nothing.

ALI
(pointing)
Look... There!

What They See Colossa Island

10 MEDIUM LONG SHOT P.O.V. (S)
The dark outline of a foreboding island looms out of the sea. Little detail is visible.

LOOKOUT'S VOICE
(calling)
Land it is, Sir!

The fog closes in again.

11 CLOSE SHOT SINBAD AT WHEEL (S)

SINBAD
Take in all sail! Harufa...!

12 FULL SHOT DECK OF SHIP THROUGH RIGGING (S)
The men scramble into the rigging as Harufa moves over to Sinbad.

13 CLOSE SHOT SINBAD AND HARUFA (S)
Sinbad turns the wheel over to Harufa.

SINBAD
Drop the anchor... We'll go ashore at the first light of dawn...

SINBAD (cont'd)
(suppressed hope)
...and may Allah grant we find food and water.

Sinbad moves off. Harufa watches him for a moment.

HARUFA
(to himself)
...and may Allah grant we find nothing more.

Sinbad disappears below decks.

HARUFA
(continuing)
Drop anchor!

FULL SHOT DECK OF SHIP THROUGH THE CAPSTAN (S) as the sailors put their shoulders to the wheel and the great anchor chain moves slowly by camera.

INT. SHIP'S CORRIDOR - NIGHT (S)

FULL SHOT SINBAD
He swings easily down the ladder and moves to the door of a cabin, knocking lightly.

SINBAD
(softly)
Princess?

INT. SHIP'S CABIN - NIGHT (Y)

ANGLE TOWARDS DOOR
Scene is lighted faintly by the glow of an oil lantern.
SADI moves into scene, going to answer the knock. She is a bit under medium height, in her middle thirties, plain featured, with a quick temper and a sharp tongue. As waiting-woman to the Princess, she has certain privileges and immunities, and she takes full advantage of them.

SADI
(opening door)
This is no time of night to be knocking at a lady's bedroom...

She starts to close the door, but Sinbad puts a good-natured elbow in the way.
CONTINUED:

SINBAD
(faint smile)
I would speak with your mistress...
I bring good news!

SADI
I know a sailor's tricks... Now off with you... Go steer your course elsewhere...

Sadi starts to ease Sinbad out of the door.

ANOTHER ANGLE PARISA
as she enters from an inner chamber. She is very beautiful, dressed in a long negligee and silken dressing gown. She crosses to Sinbad and takes his hands.

PARISA
Sadi, be more polite to our Captain.
He is not to blame for the storms which blew us off our course...
(looks up mischievously)
... or are you?

SADI
I blame him for taking you from the comfort and safety of your father's palace...to this...this bobbing ark!

PARISA
I came willingly, Sadi... What good news, my Captain?

SINBAD
We are anchoring off an island.
Tomorrow we take on food and water to continue the voyage to Bagdad.

Both Parisa and Sadi react with pleasure, though Sadi quickly conceals her joy. She picks up the cockatoo, which has been resting on a nearby perch.

SADI
The food comes none too soon...
That pirate Harufa has suddenly found eyes for my pet.

Sadi starts away with the bird. Sinbad calls after her,
smiling.
SINBAD
In a week you'll be feasting in Bagdad...
(to Parisa)
...at our wedding.

As Sadi turns away, Parisa flings her arms around Sinbad's neck and kisses him full on the lips. Sadi steps in as if to separate them, her face stern.

SADI
Captain! The minute my back is turned, I dare say you invented this island just for this purpose.

Sinbad looks at Parisa who can hardly contain her laughter.

SINBAD
(gallantly taking the blame)
For another such kiss, I'd invent a whole continent.

Sadi pushes Sinbad into the corridor and slams the door into the camera.

EXT. ISLAND OF COLOSSA - MORNING (S)

18 ESTABLISHING SHOT
It is just after dawn. Strange rock formations tower like fortress bastions over the narrow strip of beach beneath them. NINE SAILORS, dwarfed by the massive rocks, are grouped about two longboats which are beached on the sand.

EXT. THE BEACH AND LONGBOATS (S)

19 MEDIUM SHOT THE CREW
The longboats are piled high with baskets of fruit, coconuts, and casks of water. The men, refreshed with an orgy of eating and drinking, are boisterously launching one of the longboats into the surf.

20 CLOSE SHOT LONGBOAT IN WATER (S)
Camera is mounted in the boat, as three men clamber on board and pull away from the island leaving three of their number on shore with the remaining longboat.

SAILOR #4
(calling back)
How does it feel to be marooned?

The others laugh.

SAILOR #2
(his mouth stuffed with fruit)
It is torture. I cannot eat fast enough!

SAILOR #3
We shall split our skins!

They laugh boisterously. Sailor #4 tilts his head for a drink of coconut milk, then heaves the coconut at the men on shore.

SAILOR #4
Here! -- Have a coconut!

The others are caught up in the spirit and start throwing food at the men on shore.

AD LIBS
Alms for the poor!
Don't waste any!
Here... you may get hungry!

CLOSE SHOT THE THREE SAILORS ON THE BEACH (S)
As the shower of fruit and coconuts rains about them. Two of the sailors good naturedly throw the fruit back towards the receding longboat, while the Gaunt Sailor stands glumly by.

AFRICAN SAILOR (throwing a coconut)
Bon Voyage!

The shouts and laughter of the men in the boat die away.

GAUNT SAILOR
(looking around)
I wish Sinbad would come back...
We've already enough food for two voyages to Bagdad...
AFRICAN SAILOR
Patience -- He is filling the casks with fresh water from the spring.

GAUNT SAILOR
...But we already have more than we can drink.

OLD SAILOR
Have you not heard...? A Princess cannot bathe in salt water.

GAUNT SAILOR
I would give up bathing entirely, to be in Bagdad again...

AFRICAN SAILOR
I wonder what's keeping them...?

CAMERA SWINGS off the men onto the rocks. An awesome silence settles over the scene broken only by the eerie cry of the birds wheeling overhead.

EXT. OLIVE GROVE

CLOSE SHOT A MAGNIFICENTLY CONTORTED OLIVE TRUNK
An olive branch hangs prominently in the f.g. Through the bizarre twist we see Sinbad, Harufa, Ali, and Sailor #5 walking single file through the grove - each with a cask of water on his shoulder. Sinbad and Harufa carry spears. Ali has a crossbow. The sound of the birds carries over. Harufa sees the olive branch and starts towards it.

SINBAD
The boat lies this way, Harufa...
Where are you going?

HARUFA
For a branch of the olive to make my peace with the old crow that guards the Princess --

Harufa sets down his water cask and leans into a big CLOSEUP to pluck the branch when suddenly his eyes rivet on something off scene and bug out of their sockets.

HARUFA
(continuing; terrified)
MASTER!
CONTINUED:

Sinbad, Ali and Sailor #5 run up. CAMERA WHIPS to an INSERT (Y) of a huge FOOTPRINT some two feet in diameter.

SINBAD'S VOICE (O.S.)
A cloven hoof!

CLOSE SHOT SINBAD AND HARUFA (S)

HARUFA
The Devil's own!

Ali sees something else o.s. and runs to it.

ALI
(as he runs)
Look! There's another!

CAMERA SWINGS to Ali some ten feet away standing over another footprint. Sailor #5, now some twenty feet distant, points excitedly to the ground.

SAILOR #5
...and another!

(impressed)
What a stride!

He runs in the direction of the footprints, Harufa following.

ANOTHER ANGLE ROCKY AREA SINBAD AND HARUFA (S)
Sinbad and Harufa run up into camera following the prints. Suddenly they look up - disbelief written on their faces. Harufa's jaw drops open...

HARUFA
What is it?

The two sailors, in the b.g., are staring up too.

EXT. THE STONE FACE

MEDIUM LONG SHOT (H-S-D)
The tiny figures of Sinbad, Harufa, and the two sailors stand in frozen fascination before a massive stone face carved out of the living rock. A gaping cavern leading off into a mysterious darkness, forms the mouth of the face.
CLOSE SHOT REVERSE ON SINBAD AND HARUFU (S)

They cannot take their eyes from the face.

SINBAD
It has the mark of some ancient civilization...

HARUFU
It has the mark of Satan himself...
Come, Sinbad...Let us get back to the ship...

Sinbad hands Harufa his water cask.

SINBAD
Hold this... I'm going to see where that stone mouth leads...

Suddenly there is a roaring, and sounds of someone running. They look off.

EXT. THE STONE FACE

SOKURAH, an imposing man with large dark eyes, emerges from the cave mouth, running hard, closely pursued by the giant CYCLOPS, who must stoop slightly to emerge from the huge opening. Sokurah runs toward Sinbad.

CLOSE SHOT (S) moving with Sokurah as he runs, clutching a strange lamp (prop) in his hands. He sees Sinbad.

SOKURAH
(calling)
Help! Help me!!

MEDIUM SHOT SINBAD AND OTHERS as they react.

SINBAD
To the boat -- Quickly!

The men start to run towards the beach, their water casks sloshing wildly.

EXT. GREAT STONE FACE

Harufa and the men run out. Sinbad holds long enough for Sokurah to run by, then turns and follows. In the b.g., ISLAND SEQUENCE

the Cyclops, now fully emerged from the Stone Face, gives chase.

EXT. GROUP OF LARGE ROCKS IN SAND (H-S-D)

28 MEDIUM SHOT SINBAD, SOKURAH, THE MEN
as the Cyclops pursues them with huge strides, gaining quickly. The Cyclops reaches out for Sokurah.

29 MEDIUM CLOSE SHOT SINBAD (S)
as he hurls his javelin at the Cyclops.

29A MEDIUM CLOSE SHOT THE CYCLOPS UP ANGLE (H-S-D) (DRAWING 31A)
as the javelin sticks in his chest. He plucks it out with a roar of rage, pausing slightly in his pursuit of Sokurah.

30 MEDIUM SHOT SOKURAH NEAR ROCKS (S)
He pauses in front of the camera to look back at the Cyclops o.s. ... as he does, Sinbad runs into him, knocking him over. Sokurah recovers and runs into the protection of some rocks.

31 CLOSE SHOT HARUFA AND ALI (S)
Harufa hurls his spear at the Cyclops. Ali fires his crossbow.

31A MEDIUM CLOSE SHOT THE CYCLOPS UP ANGLE (H-S-D)
The spear and crossbow find their marks, but only serve to further enrage the Cyclops. He plucks them from his body.

EXT. THE BEACH

32 MEDIUM SHOT AT THE LONGBOAT (S)
The sailors hear the distant bellowing of the Cyclops, and hastily start to make preparations to launch the longboat.

33 MEDIUM CLOSE SHOT CYCLOPS' LEGS (H-S-D)
Harufa dodges the moving foot of the giant. Sinbad and Ali hack at the Cyclops with their swords.

33A CLOSE SHOT CYCLOPS (H-S-D)
Reaction shot of Cyclops.
Cyclops picks up Harufa and examines him and sees he is not Sokurah, then flings him down toward Sinbad.

Harufa's body is thrown into scene hitting Sinbad. The two bodies strike the rocks knocking Harufa unconscious.

He crouches in the shelter of the rocks, having placed the lamp on the sand. He quickly rubs it three times, uttering words we cannot hear because of the bellowing of the Cyclops. A puff of smoke appears from the lamp, whirls and boils, producing a GENIE, in the shape of a young boy.

GENIE
(bowing to his master)
I obey the master of the lamp.

SOKURAH
I command you build an unbreakable wall between the Cyclops and those men!

GENIE
I shall try, O Master, I shall try.

The Genie leaps forward.

The Genie runs into scene doing two quick somersaults on the sand, dissolving into a rolling ball of fire.

Sinbad drags the fallen Harufa out of the path of the advancing Cyclops. As the Cyclops nears them, the rolling ball of fire speeds between them, sending up in its path a shimmering wall of force. The ball of fire dissolves into nothingness as it reaches the rocky cliff.

The Genie has returned to the lamp.

The Cyclops stands hammering futilely at the shimmering wall of force.
As Sinbad struggles with the groggy Harufa, Sokurah runs in, carrying the lamp.

SINBAD

You'll be safe aboard my ship...
Lend a hand, will you...?

Sokurah helps to support Harufa and together the trio races across the beach towards the longboat.

EXT. THE BEACH AND LONGBOAT

They look off, reacting with terror at the Cyclops and the fleeing Sinbad. They quickly push the boat into the water.

INT. SHIP'S LONGBOAT

Sinbad dips a cloth over the side and holds it against Harufa's aching head. Sokurah smiles in sympathy.

SOKURAH

I fear he'll have a headache on my account.

SINBAD

He's lucky to escape with that --
What strange power restrains that monster?

SOKURAH

(showing lamp)
The man who holds this treasure is safe from even greater dangers.

Sinbad reaches out for the lamp, but Sokurah discreetly draws it away. Sinbad smiles.

SINBAD

If your lamp has such powers, why did you not destroy the monster?

SOKURAH

The Genie of the Lamp cannot be used to work harm, but his powers of protection are invulnerable.

HARUFA
(painful smile as he rubs his head)
If they come in time...

EXT. THE BEACH AND CYCLOPS

MEDIUM SHOT (H-S-D)
Frustrated by the wall of force, the Cyclops finds a huge boulder. He lifts this in both hands, hurling it like a basketball over the wall, high into the air, toward the boat.

EXT. SHIP’S BOAT (SEE DRAWING 45)

MEDIUM SHOT SINBAD AND OTHERS

SINBAD
We’ll reach the safety of my ship in a -- (looking up and reacting)
Look out!

The huge rock (prop) crashes into the sea on the far side of the boat, capsizing it, and tumbling the men into the water. (Effects Department Note: Rig dynamite cap in water for explosion).

DOWN SHOT SINBAD AND MEN (S)
struggling in water. Sokurah, makes a frantic effort to keep hold of the lamp, but he cannot swim. As he sinks beneath the surface, he loses the lamp and it sinks into the depths.

SOKURAH
(his frantic voice distorted through a mouthful of sea water)
The Lamp! The Lamp!...

INSERT: THE LAMP (S)
as it slowly sinks in the water, trailing bubbles.

EXT. THE BEACH AND CYCLOPS

MEDIUM SHOT (H-S-D)
as the lamp becomes ownerless, its protection is withdrawn and the wall of force melts away. The Cyclops moves forward to the water’s edge.
EXT. DECK OF SHIP

48 MEDIUM SHOT PARISA AND SADI (Y)
as they react to the capsizing of the boat.

EXT. WATER

49 LONG SHOT SINBAD SOKURAH AND MEN (S)
as Sinbad comes to the surface with the half-drown Sokurah.
He joins the crew in swimming toward the ship, towing Sokurah with him.

EXT. SIDE OF SHIP (S)

50 SINBAD SOKURAH AND OTHERS as they clamber up the side on ropes dropped from the deck into the water. Sinbad helps the coughing Sokurah up onto the deck.

EXT. SECTION OF SHIP'S RAIL (Y)

51 SINBAD SOKURAH AND OTHERS as Sinbad pulls up the dripping Sokurah who has been overcome with sea water. Parisa and Sadi are at the rail. Parisa flings her arms about Sinbad's neck.

PARISA
(to Sinbad)
My prayer is answered. You are safe.

SINBAD
(pulling her off with a smile)
We are still not out of danger.
(shouting to crew)
Hoist all sail! Full starboard rudder! ... Head for deep water!

The crewmen scramble to carry out the orders as Sinbad manages to get Sokurah over the rail.

EXT. THE SHIP

52 FULL SHOT (X or M) as the sails catch the wind and the ship starts to move swiftly out to sea.
EXT. THE BEACH AND CYCLOPS

53   FULL SHOT (H-S-D)
The Cyclops wades out slowly into the water, then he dips his arm beneath the surface of the sea, coming up with the magic lamp held in his outstretched palm.

54   CLOSE SHOT CYCLOPS (H-S-D)
Lamp in hand.

EXT. SECTION OF SHIP'S RAIL (Y)

55   SINBAD PARISA AND SADI as they watch the Cyclops recover the lamp.

SINBAD
'Sol... The giant recovers the wonderful lamp.'

PARISA
He is content to let us go.

SINBAD
(turning)
'-- and is our man of magic content?'

Sinbad looks over to the prostrate form of Sokurah on the deck (out of scene).

EXT. DECK OF SHIP (S)

55A  MEDIUM SHOT SOKURAH AND HARUFA

HARUFA
(sly smile)
He makes no complaint, Captain...

55B  CLOSE TWO SHOT SINBAD AND PARISA AT RAIL (Y)

SINBAD
Take him to my cabin. A glass of rum is the magic he needs now.

55C  MEDIUM SHOT SOKURAH AND HARUFA (S)
Harufa chuckles. He lifts Sokurah as we:

INT. SINBAD'S CABIN - DAY (Y)
56 MEDIUM SHOT SINBAD SOKURAH PARISA SADI
Sinbad sits at his captain's table. Sokurah stands at the cabin window, looking out to sea. Parisa and Sadi are seated, watching interestedly. Sokurah appears fully recovered from his drowning. Sinbad, plotting his ship's position on a map, tosses his dividers down.

SINBAD
You forget one thing, my friend. The Cyclops will be on guard now... Besides their great strength, they have the magic lamp as well.

SOKURAH
(turning impatiently)
The Cyclops have no speech. They cannot invoke the power of the Genie... It is useless to them...

PARISA
... And is the lamp so precious to you that you would risk your life to live on an island with the Cyclops and the other strange creatures you speak of?

Sokurah walks over to the table to face Sinbad, and says:

SOKURAH
There is nothing I would not do to possess it! Many years ago, when I was but a student in the art of Wizardry, an old sorcerer told me of the fantastic Genie. I set out to find it, traveling throughout the world for many years. At last I found my lamp -- only to lose it when my ship was wrecked on the shores of Colossa...

PARISA
Now you have lost it a second time.
CONTINUED:

SOKURAH

(confidently)
Yes, but I shall have the lamp again... and a great deal more!

SINBAD

Who are you?

SOKURAH

(bowing)
I am known as Sokurah.

SINBAD

What are you then -- a magician?

SOKURAH

I have some skill.

PARISA

If you are indeed a magician, why didn't you use your powers to slay the one-eyed monster?

SOKURAH

I had a potion prepared for just such a purpose...

(smiles)
... but I could not convince the Cyclops to swallow it.

Sokurah turns to Sinbad, reaches into his tunic and pulls out a leather bag, dropping its contents on the table.

SOKURAH'S VOICE

For the wonderous lamp -- and for your help...

CAMERA PANS off the table to CLOSEUP of Sokurah whose beady black eyes are boring into camera.

SOKURAH

... a King's ransom in jewels.
58 CLOSE SHOT SINBAD (Y) Though he is impressed by the fortune his eyes see, he pushes the jewels across the table toward Sokurah without a moment's hesitation.

SINBAD
Your ambition has nearly cost us our lives already.

SOKURAH
(intensely)
Captain, the storms which drove your ship to the island have wrecked many vessels on its shores... The treasures of a hundred years have been gathered by the Cyclops.

(indicates jewels)
The wealth that awaits us on the island is worth a thousand times more than what you see.

SINBAD
We are on an important mission for the Caliph of Bagdad.

59 TWO SHOT PARISA AND SADI (Y) Parisa turns a pleasant look to Sinbad.

60 CLOSE SHOT SINBAD (Y)

SINBAD
Our presence there means the difference between war and peace. I'll not risk it by turning back. That is my final word.

A storm of frustration surges in Sokurah. He walks to the window.

61 CLOSE SHOT SOKURAH (Y)
He struggles to control himself, then turns with a forced smile.

SCENE 62 OMITTED
SOKURAH
(with a touch of prophecy)
Perhaps after we are safely in Bagdad you will be persuaded to feel differently about the venture...

(smiling)
I doubt it. Come, I’ll show you to your quarters. With fair winds, we will reach port in five days.

Sokurah bows to Parisa and Sadi, then follows Sinbad out.

Harufa is at the wheel of the ship. Sinbad slides down the rigging rope, dropping beside him.

SINBAD

INT. SEDAN CHAIR

Sinbad smiles happily; Parisa reacts with amazement to the joyful welcome they are receiving.

PARISA
My lord Sinbad is a very great prince in his country.

SINBAD
(modestly)
The people rejoice for the news I bring: Peace between your father's kingdom and ours.

PARISA
(slightly mocking)
And did you love me only to save Bagdad from destruction?

SINBAD
I love you because I cannot do otherwise. Your eyes are mightier than all your father's armies.

Parisa smiles. She kisses Sinbad -- they both laugh happily. Sound of the o.s. celebrations rises to a crescendo as we:

DISSOLVE TO:
EXT. CALIPH'S PALACE AND GROUNDS - DAY (S)

71A  ESTABLISHING SHOT

72  FULL SHOT STEPS OF CALIPH'S PALACE (S)
The Caliph stands before the entrance, attended by several slaves and palace dignitaries. Sinbad leads Parisa to greet the Caliph. The Caliph opens his arms in a welcoming gesture.

CALIPH
Three times welcome, Sinbad. You have done wonders to avert a war, Sinbad...
(turning to Parisa)
And what fair prize is this?

SINDAD
Princess Parisa, the daughter of the Sultan of Chandra...pledged to be my bride...a symbol of lasting friendship between our Kingdoms.

CALIPH
(pleased; reacting)
Welcome as a daughter, my child, for I love Sinbad as my own son.
PARISA
I thank you, Sir. My father, the Sultan sends his wish for your health. He will arrive within a week to attend our wedding.

CALIPH
Splendid! And a royal wedding it shall be, with all the honors of our court...

The Caliph takes the arms of Sinbad and Parisa, leading them off.

CALIPH
Tell me all about your voyage, Sinbad.

SINBAD
A strange voyage and a strange tale it is, my Caliph.

INT. PALACE BANQUET ROOM (S) (/C.)

MEDIUM SHOT A HUGE GONG

A Nubian slave strikes the gong and Sokurah -- now magnificently dressed in a long black robe -- enters through the curtains and moves to where the Caliph, Sinbad and Parisa are seated together on mats at a low table, dining in the manner of the East. Sokurah bows before the Caliph.

SOKURAH
I am highly honored you have summoned me, your Highness.

CALIPH
Sinbad says you are a man of unusual powers. It is our wish that you demonstrate your skill at a welcoming feast for the Sultan of Chandra.

SOKURAH
Your wish is granted even before it is asked. I promise a performance such as will live in the Caliph's memory for all his days -- may they be many.
Sokurah's manner with the Caliph is one of ceremonial politeness. But a slight hint of irony intrudes, making Sokurah's attitude one of veiled disdain, rather than subservience.

Sokurah produces a parchment scroll which he unrolls for the Caliph. On it is the design for a huge crossbow.

Sokurah
I have the design of a new weapon, a great crossbow, which will protect the men from harm.

Caliph
(looking at the scroll)
I cannot judge, for I have not seen the one-eyed giants... Sinbad, what is your opinion?

INT. BANQUET ROOM  (S)

Caliph
You please me already.

Sokurah
Your palace is a jewel of comfort and hospitality... but...

Caliph
But?

Sokurah
My happiness will be complete if you would grant but a single wish.

SINBAD
Tales of our voyage have already spread through Bagdad. No one

CALIPH

Sinbad's word is my word.

SOKURAH

Until the Sultan's feast...

The magician moves off quickly. Sinbad and Parisa stare after him.

DISSOLVE TO:

EXT. PALACE LOOKOUT TOWER - DAY (S)

as the palace lookout sights an object o.s. in the distance.
He raises a long bugle to his lips and blows a regal fanfare.
EXT. PALACE COURTYARD - DAY

Series of shots of the Sultan's procession as it moves thru from the palace gates through the wide courtyard to the palace itself. The Sultan is being carried in a sedan chair.

EXT. PALACE DOOR (S)

Parisa breaks through a group of palace attendants, as she sees Sultan's procession o.s.

INT. SEDAN CHAIR (Y)

He is a stern and imposing man, less benevolent and kindly-looking than the Caliph, more the warrior-ruler type. Abruptly the side curtain of the chair is drawn back, and Parisa climbs quickly in beside the Sultan, who embraces her warmly, his features lightening with his genuine affection for his daughter.

SULTAN
(hugging her)
My child... my child.

PARISA
(happily)
I could not wait for you to arrive.

SULTAN
Are you all right? Are you happy?

PARISA
Very. I love Sinbad more with each sunrise.

SULTAN
I had such doubts after I let you go...
(sternly)
If any harm had come to you, they would have paid with a thousand lives.

PARISA
(drawing back; smiling)
Don't make yourself angry. You must smile, for the Caliph is very nice. He has prepared a great feast and celebration in your honor.
CONTINUED:

SULTAN
If my daughter is happy, I have honor enough.

EXT. SEDAN CHAIR (Y)

MEDIUM CLOSE SHOT SULTAN AND PARISA
as they leave the chair and move toward the palace doors. Sound of the welcoming celebration o.s. all around them.

DISSOLVE TO:

INT. PALACE BANQUET ROOM (S)

FULL SHOT SULTAN CALIPH AND OTHERS
The Sultan and the Caliph are seated side by side at the long banquet table, with Sinbad and Parisa next to them. The remains of the feast are being cleared away by a group of attendants, and the palace musicians are playing in the b.g.

FULL SHOT DANCERS (X)
A dozen beautiful Harem girls are just finishing a dance.

MEDIUM SHOT CALIPH AND SULTAN (S)
The Sultan is dozing. As the applause brings him to, the Caliph hands him a ceremonial water-pipe.

SULTAN
(apologetically)
My senses are heavy from your excellent feast, O Caliph...

CALIPH
I have arranged a presentation which I hope will rouse your interest, O Sultan... Summon Sokurah the Magician --!

The slave bows in response to the Caliph's command and moves off.

INT. PALACE ANTE-ROOM (Y)

MEDIUM SHOT SOKURAH AND SADI
They stand before a huge earthen jar. Half a dozen giant bare-chested guards are standing in readiness to carry it. Sokurah is attired in a rich costume and flowing cape. He is earnestly addressing Sadi.

SOKURAH
Not only will you triumph in the struggle between good and evil, but you will be changed into the most exotic woman in all Bagdad.

SADI
(anxious)
What must I do?

There is the sound of a gong o.s.

SOKURAH
Leave everything in my hands.

He claps his hands, and the guards move to pick up the earthen jar.

CLOSE SHOT TWO GUARDS
as they lean their heads in to pick up the handles.

FIRST GUARD
(whispering)
Any change in that one would be an improvement...

SECOND GUARD
(nods briefly)
Do not look on her -- you may turn to stone.

They pick up the jar and move forward.

ENT. PALACE BANQUET ROOM - NIGHT (Y)

Sokurah, followed by Sadi and the guards, enters and bows low toward the Caliph and his guests. The guards set the earthen jar on the floor, then step back a few paces behind it. They are obviously very attractive to Sadi. One of the guards holds a long-handled, broad-bladed battle-axe.

CLOSE SHOT SULTAN AND SINBAD
The Sultan registers mild interest.
CONTINUED:

SULTAN
Is that not Sadi, my daughter's waiting-woman?

SINBAD
It is. She has agreed to be the magician's subject.

SULTAN
If he can make her a happy woman, he is indeed a great magician.
Her voice turns honey to vinegar.

ANOTHER ANGLE FEATURING SOKURAH
as he leads Sadi to the side of the very large earthen jar, then claps his hands. The first and second guards come up.

TIGHT TWO SHOT SADI AND GUARDS (D) as Sadi gives them a definitely flirtatious look. The guards coldly look through her. She reacts by freezing in turn. The guards lift her easily and place her inside the urn.

FULL SHOT SOKURAH AND HIS GROUP
The palace musicians play an eerie melody to accompany Sokurah's actions. The magician gestures to one of the guards, who brings him a tightly woven reed basket, then retires to the b.g. again, holding the large ornamental battle-axe across his chest.

CLOSE SHOT SOKURAH AND BASKET (D) as Sokurah removes the lid from the basket, thrusts in his hand and draws forth a large, writhing cobra. Sound of audience reaction from o.s. CAMERA PANS with Sokurah as he carries the snake to the large earthen jar, holds it aloft for a moment, then drops the snake into the jar with Sadi.

TWO SHOT SINBAD AND PARISA
as they react.

PARISA
(tense whisper)
She will be killed!

Sinbad shakes his head slightly, laying a comforting hand on Parisa's arm. CAMERA PANS to TWO SHOT of the Caliph and the Sultan, both staring at the earthen jar.

SULTAN
(quietly)
Allah have mercy on them both.
As he stands beside the earthen jar, his arms extended over it in a hypnotic gesture. From each hand he pours a small vial of colored fluid into the jar (a slight flash and puff of smoke appear). Sound and tempo of the b.g. music rise slowly as he performs this action. His lips move in secret incantation, but his voice is a murmur beneath the music. With a final dramatic gesture, Sokurah lowers his arms.

For a moment, nothing happens; then, in time with the music, the head of Sadi slowly rises above the rim of the jar -- but it is a transformed Sadi. Her plain features have become exotic, and her head is sheathed in a strange headdress. Sound of a surprised intake of breath from the Caliph's guests.

The guards' interest in Sadi is already increasing, judging from their rapt expressions. Sokurah comes up and takes the ornamental axe from one of them.

Sadi's head is still all that shows, weaving in time with the music. Sokurah moves up behind the earthen jar, carrying the large wide-bladed axe.

She moves her head from side to side in the hypnotic weave of a cobra.

With a single stroke of the axe, Sokurah shatters the jar. It falls away in pieces, revealing Sadi as a combination serpent-girl. Her body is segmented and tapering, like that of a snake, and four long tendrils exist in place of her arms.

as they react.

It is not possible. I am asleep.

If so, I share your dream.

CAMERA PANS to TWO SHOT of Sinbad and Parisa to catch their reaction to Sadi's appearance. Parisa is wide-eyed.
as she writhes and weaves in a sensuous dance, to an entirely different rhythm which the musicians are now playing.

as Sokurah returns the ornamental axe. They are stunned and entranced with the spectacle of Sadi.

Series of angles on the dance she performs, weaving her way to the banquet table, where she uses each set of tendrils to gently caress the faces of the Caliph and the Sultan.

He lifts his arms in a gesture of command. The music changes again, gaining in tempo, rising toward conclusion.

as she weaves from the banquet table back to where one of the guards stands, holding the axe across his chest. She circles in front of the guards twice.

The snake-like lower portion of Sadi's body begins to coil back on itself, encircling her waist in a tight grip. The tendrils of arms writhe as though fighting with her for domination, then they wind themselves about her neck. Sadi's face shows fear and alarm, as does that of the guards.

The current is destroying the girl....

As Sadi struggles helplessly in the coils, the two guards move in to help. One of them raises the axe as if he would cut the serpent in two, but Sokurah quickly takes off his cape and throws it over Sadi. There is a flash of light; a whirling cloud of smoke envelops Sadi.

as they react, Parisa rising, showing great alarm.
CONTINUED:

PARISA
(gasping)

Sadi!

Parisa runs out. Sinbad follows.

THREE SHOT SADI AND THE TWO GUARDS (f)

As the smoke clears we see Sadi, now restored to her form as a human being. She trembles for a moment as though waking from a dream state or trance, then starts to fall forward in a faint. The guards catch her, lifting her in their strong arms. The axe and the serpent have disappeared, leaving only a few ashes to mark their place. The guards look at each other in defeat. Parisa runs in.

PARISA
Sadi -- are you all right?

Sadi opens one eye a tiny bit, and a quick smile of conspiracy crosses her lips. Parisa relaxes.

PARISA
(to Sokurah)
I feared the serpent would kill her...

SOKURAH
I assure you your handmaiden is unharmed.

Sokurah gestures, and the guards carry Sadi from the room, obviously displeased by their task. Sadi luxuriates in their arms.

SCENE 109 OMITTED.

ANOTHER ANGLE MEDIUM SHOT PARISA SOKURAH AND SINBAD (f)
as the Caliph and the Sultan run in. Sokurah bows low.

CALIPH
Well done, Sokurah. You are truly a man of great skill.

SOKURAH
If I have pleased you, I hope you will reconsider my request for an expedition to Colossa.

CALIPH
I do not change my mind so quickly.
CONTINUED:

SOKURAH
(hints of menace)
Perhaps a further demonstration of my powers is necessary...

SULTAN
Can you foresee the future? The art of prophecy has always fascinated me.

SOKURAH
(pause; thinking)
I can, upon occasion, foretell certain events.

TWO SHOT CALIPH AND SULTAN
The Sultan leans over and whispers with the Caliph. The Caliph nods, then looks back to Sokurah.

CALIPH
It would please us to have you look into the future of our two countries.

CLOSE SHOT SOKURAH

SOKURAH
As your Highness wishes. I shall require a brazier of live coals.

CALIPH
You shall have them. Guard!

SOKURAH
(a bit ominous)
May the unseen forces grant that I see only good.

TWO SHOT SINBAD AND PARISA (Y)
They are seated very close together now. Sinbad has his arm around Parisa, and her head rests on his shoulder. She is pleasantly excited at the coming prophecy.

SINBAD
Perhaps Sokurah can foretell the years of our happiness —

PARISA
(putting her head on his shoulder) — or how many young princes we shall have.
A curtain parts behind them and Sadi appears.

SADI
(stern whisper)
Is this how you conduct yourself the moment my back is turned? The wedding is not until tomorrow.

Parisa lifts her head from Sinbad’s shoulder, and both turn to look at Sadi.

SOKURAH
(hollowly; intoning)
My spirit races ahead of time itself. Ask your questions.

CALIPH
What do you see here in Bagdad?

Sokurah hesitates for a long moment. His face changes, as though he fights a powerful emotion.

SOKURAH
I see... but I cannot speak.

CALIPH
You must!

SOKURAH
(slowly; hollowly)
I see a great disaster. I see...
I cannot tell.

He pauses.

CALIPH
Go on! I command you!

SOKURAH
There are great buildings falling.
Women and children slain... I see war. War between Bagdad and Chandra.
as they react. They stare in amazement for a moment toward Sokurah, then look at each other, as though to reassure themselves.

CALIPH
(to magician)
You lie!

SULTAN
What of my daughter's wedding?

SOKURAH
There will be no wedding...
Mysterious and evil forces are gathered, and the wedding rejoicing shall be turned to mourning!

as Sinbad leaps across the table, kicks over the brazier of glowing coals and hurls the magician to the floor. It is as though he has broken an evil spell. Lights come up, and the ominous hush is broken by the babble of voices. CAMERA PANS with Sinbad as he turns to the Caliph and the Sultan.

CALIPH
You did well, Sinbad.

SINBAD
I could not bear to have this charlatan frighten the Princess.

The magician gets slowly to his feet, trying to conceal his rage beneath a surface of wounded dignity. He bows stiffly toward the Caliph.

SOKURAH
I spoke at your insistence. The events my spirit saw lurk as dire possibility. If you request, I shall use my power to disperse the evil forces and avert such disaster.
CONTINUED:

CALIPH
In return I presume I must give you the ship and sailors you desire.

SOKURAH
Such a gift of gratitude would seem fitting.

CLOSE SHOT THE CALIPH

CALIPH
(becoming angry)
So! Your lies are a cheap scheme to force me to grant your wish.
(pointing)
Get out! You have committed treason against both Bagdad and Chandra. If you are found within our borders by tomorrow sunset, your eyes will be torn out, that you may see no more evil dreams!

CLOSE SHOT SOKURAH
As he receives this sentence his features grow cold with restrained rage. Two guards start to escort Sokurah out of the room. With a final venomous glare at Sinbad, the magician turns and moves off quickly between the guards.

MEDIUM SHOT CALIPH SULTAN SINBAD AND PARISA
As they watch the magician exit, an ominous hush falls over the banquet hall. The clang of the door closing after him breaks the silence; the Caliph Seizes his wine glass, lifting it high.

CALIPH
To the wedding -- and our lasting friendship!

The Sultan lifts his glass, and they drink the Caliph's toast. Sinbad embraces Parisa protectively as we:

DISSOLVE TO:
INT. PALACE CORRIDOR - NIGHT

121 MEDIUM SHOT SINBAD AND PARISA as Sinbad leads Parisa to the doorway of her chambers. They pause outside the door, and Sinbad takes Parisa's hands in his.

SINBAD
Goodnight... Though I wish the night were gone.

PARISA
(smiling)
Tomorrow will come soon. And all the nights thereafter will be welcome. I cannot imagine waking to see your face, instead of Sadi's.

SINBAD
... She was indeed transformed tonight by the magician. Suppose that his prophecy...

PARISA (lightly)
I'll dream of danger he predicted so you can rescue me.

Parisa smiles, and they gently kiss goodnight.

Dissolve To:

INT. PARISA'S CHAMBER - NIGHT (Y)

122 MEDIUM CLOSE SHOT PARISA
CAMERA SHOOTING DOWN ANGLE at Parisa as she lies asleep in her bed, one arm outstretched over the coverlet. Lighting is low key, seeming to come from a single candle which burns on a stand beside Parisa's bed in an ornate holder. CAMERA MOVES IN to a CLOSE SHOT of Parisa's face. She is breathing quietly, very beautiful in sleep.

122A MEDIUM CLOSE SHOT A CURTAINED WINDOW
A figure, silhouetted against the moonlight, lurks behind the curtains. Though we are close to the face, we cannot see who it is.
BIG CLOSEUP THE CANDLE
The flame burns normally for a moment, then sputters, as though starting to consume some new substance through the wick. Slowly the flame changes in color, giving off strange hues, and a thread of bluish smoke whirls upward from the candle. Sparks fly. The light flickers nervously.

CLOSE SHOT PARISA
as she breathes, the first hint of smoke from the flickering candle. She stirs softly, then falls back into an even deeper sleep. The bluish haze grows slightly thicker about her.

CLOSE SHOT FIGURE IN CURTAINED WINDOW
The flickering light brightens fitfully so that we see the figure is Sokurah. He takes a satisfied look, then exits quietly.

ANOTHER ANGLE THE CANDLE (H-Y-D)
showing the flame burning strongly, a thick strand of smoke curling upward from it. Prominent in the f.g. of the scene is Parisa's hand, outstretched on the bed. As we watch, her hand begins to grow smaller in all dimensions. As it shrinks, it is drawn slowly out of the edge of the scene, following Parisa's dwindling body.

INSERT: CLOSE SHOT CANDLE
Huge CLOSEUP of the candle, the flame filling the screen.

FADE OUT.

FADE IN:

INT. PALACE THRONE ROOM - DAY (S)

MEDIUM SHOT CALIPH SINBAD SULTAN AND OTHERS
A number of attendants are present, making final preparations for the wedding, which is to be held in the throne room. The Caliph is gesturing, talking with Sinbad and the Sultan.

CALIPH
(pointing)
... the procession will pass through those doors, pause here before the throne, where the Sultan and I shall be seated equally. Then --
He is interrupted by the appearance of Sadi, who hurries into scene and bows before the Sultan. She is obviously disturbed.

SULTAN
What is it you wish?

SADI
My Lord, the door to the Princess Parisa's chamber is locked -- I cannot awaken her!

SINBAD
(reacting)
She does not answer?

SADI
No, my Lord. My hand is numb from pounding...

Sinbad turns and runs toward the door. The Sultan and the Caliph watch in surprise, then move after him.

INT. PALACE CORRIDOR (S)

128 MOVING SHOT SINBAD
as he runs at top speed down the corridor, moving toward and into camera, obscuring it.

129 ANOTHER ANGLE SINBAD
as he pulls himself to a stop before Parisa's door. He hammers his fist against the door, catching his breath.

SINBAD
(calling)
Parisa!... Princess!

Hardly pausing for an answer, he hurls his shoulder against the door. It gives slightly. He crashes against the door again and the lock shatters. With a final blow he hurls the door open.

INT. PARISA'S CHAMBERS (Y)

130 ANGLE TOWARD DOOR SINBAD
as he thrusts the door aside and moves into the room, looking first at the bed, then, not seeing Parisa, around the chamber.

SINBAD
Parisa! Where are you?
130 CONTINUED:

PARISA'S VOICE
(faintly)
Sinbad -- I am here...on the pillow! Look closely!

Sinbad hears, looks back toward the bed. He reacts, showing shock and disbelief.

131 CLOSE SHOT PARISA'S PILLOW PARISA (H-Y-D) at the head of the bed, on the pillow (large prop) which held just her head before, stands the tiny figure of Parisa. She is only a few inches tall. Her voice, when she speaks, is slightly higher in pitch than before, and quite small in volume.

SINBAD'S VOICE
(rubbing his eyes)
No... It cannot be so...

PARISA
It is. The world has grown very large overnight.

INT. PARISA'S CHAMBER

132 ANOTHER ANGLE SINBAD AND PARISA (H-Y-D) as Sinbad kneels beside the bed, bringing his face close to the pillow. His expression slowly changes from disbelief to stunned and sorrowful acceptance.

SINBAD
(softly)
It's true... It is you, my darling.

Parisa nods, unable to speak for emotion. Sound of a commotion in the corridor o.s. and of people entering.

INT. PARISA'S CHAMBER (S)

133 ANGLE TOWARD DOOR SULTAN AND CALIPH as they enter, followed shortly by Sadi. Sinbad stands to meet them.

SULTAN
Where is my daughter?

Sinbad, sadly turns toward the tiny Parisa standing on the pillow o.s.
CLOSE SHOT THE SULTAN
as he reacts to seeing the tiny Parisa. His dark features swell with rage. He turns on the Caliph.

(SULTAN
(roaring)
Ten thousand devils! What evil sorcery is this?

MEDIUM SHOT SINBAD CALIPH AND SULTAN (R-Y-D) as they gather around Parisa's pillow, where she stands.

(SULTAN
My daughter, is it you? Speak -- tell me my eyes lie.

(PARISA
You see truly, my father.

MEDIUM UP SHOT PARISA'S POV
The Sultan turns slowly toward the Caliph, raising one huge fist above his head, emphasizing his words.

(SULTAN
I would have borne any insult --
But my dear one, my daughter...

The Sultan walks slowly to the window.

(SULTAN
(continuing; intensely moved)
Bagdad shall be utterly destroyed.
My army will leave no soul alive.

SCENES 137 THRU 139 OMITTED

MEDIUM SHOT
Sinbad rises quickly, turning to Sadi, who moves in toward the bed.

(SINBAD
Do not let your mistress out of your sight.

Sinbad moves quickly to the door. CAMERA PANNING to SHOW his exit. Sound of the Caliph pleading and Sultan threatening continued o.s.
CONTINUED:

GALIPH

Oh mighty Sultan, consider these words you speak —

SULTAN

(pointing out window)

Look upon your city. Enjoy the sight — for it will soon be rubble and bleached bones!

INT. PALACE CORRIDOR (S)

141 ANGLE SHOT SINBAD

as he runs swiftly down the corridor, disappearing around a corner.

INT. PALACE CORRIDOR #2 (S)

142 ANOTHER ANGLE SINBAD AND GUARD

as Sinbad runs toward camera, bringing himself to a halt before a doorway leading onto the corridor. The doorway is open. Sinbad peers in briefly, then turns to a palace guard standing at attention near the doorway.
CONTINUED:

SINBAD
The magician — where is he?

GUARD
Departed but a few moments ago, my lord.

Sinbad turns, running again, down the corridor and out of sight.

EXT. PALACE COURTYARD (S)

as Sokurah moves toward the gates, a smug smile on his face. He hears the sound of palace doors slamming and running footsteps. He pauses, turning.

SINBAD’S VOICE
calling Sokurah! ... Wait!

Sokurah waits, his face impassive, as Sinbad moves quickly into the scene, confronting him.

SINBAD
The Princess Parisa ... She has become --

SOKURAH
I know. In my vision I saw her fate, but I feared to speak of it. Your anger was too great.

SINBAD
Tell me -- can you help her?

SOKURAH
(after pause)
Possibly. But it involves great risk.

SINBAD
If she can be helped, I will do anything!

SOKURAH
I cannot turn back. If I am within Bagdad at sundown, my eyes shall be dark forever.
CONTINUED:

SINBAD

I'll answer to the Caliph for that. Now come, quickly!

Sokurah hesitates a second, then nods his calm acceptance.

Sinbad begins hurrying him back toward the palace as we:

QUICKLY DISSOLVE TO:

INT. PARISA'S CHAMBER (S) - DAY

MEDIUM SHOT CALIPH

The Caliph sits disconsolately on the edge of the bed, his head in his hands. Sinbad and the magician appear at the door and enter. Sinbad looks around quickly, sees that Parisa, Sadi and the Sultan are gone. The Caliph scarcely glances up at their intrusion.

SINBAD

Where are they? -- Where is the Princess?

CALIPH

Gone to the Sultan's ship. They are preparing to sail. I had no hope of stopping him...

(noticing Sokurah)

Cursed omen of doom -- do you not value your life?

SINBAD

He returned at my bidding, O Caliph. He claims with good fortune the Princess can be restored in a month.

The Caliph reacts to this news. Slowly he stands, facing Sinbad and Sokurah.

CALIPH

(sorrowfully)

Too long. The Sultan's army will camp on the ruins of the palace in less time.
ANOTHER ANGLE FEATURING SINBAD

SINBAD
(determined)
If it is a month we need -- a month we shall have!

DISSOLVE TO:
EXT. DECK OF SHIP - DAY (S)

146 MEDIUM SHOT SULTAN AND CREW

The Sultan stands on the quarter-deck with his ship's captain.

SULTAN

(angrily giving orders to the captain)

Set all sail! Prepare to cast off!

147 ANOTHER ANGLE HEAD OF GANGWAY SINBAD (S) as Sinbad runs up the gangway, pausing to look around as he comes onto the deck.

CAPTAIN'S VOICE

(calling)

Raise the gangway!

SINBAD

Wait!

148 MEDIUM SHOT SULTAN AND SINBAD (S) (C & A) as they move to meet each other. The Sultan is very grim and angry.

SULTAN

Are you so tired of life that you would confront me now?

SINBAD

Kill me if you wish... Will that restore your daughter?

SULTAN

(stopped for a moment)

Will anything?

SINBAD

With the help of Allah, yes!

SULTAN

You lie -- I want no promise of false hope. Go -- leave while you are able...

SINBAD

If you take the Princess now, you will never know if I lie or speak the truth. But leave her here with me and within one month she shall be well and happy.
149 TWO SHOT SULTAN AND SINBAD as the Sultan steps close to Sinbad, glaring at him.

SULTAN (turning, calling)
Sadi! Bring your mistress.

150 ANOTHER ANGLE SINBAD SULTAN AND SADI (S) as Sadi approaches, carrying Parisa (model), who is partly sitting on a pillow.

SULTAN
If this is a ruse to gain time for the Caliph and his army, every stone in Bagdad will mark a grave.

151 CLOSE ANGLE FAVORING PARISA ON A PILLOW (H-Y-D)

SULTAN
Parisa, would you be with this man in this accursed country or return to Chandra with me?

The Sultan speaks as though sure of his answer, feeling certain he will win out over Sinbad.

PARISA
Father, I love Sinbad. I trust him with my life.

152 CLOSE SHOT SULTAN (S-D)

His face reflects the struggle of his emotions; pride and anger fight with his love for Parisa and his desire to take any chance to help her. For a long moment the decision is in doubt.

SULTAN (grimly)
You have one month, Sinbad... and only one...

153 ANOTHER ANGLE FEATURING SINBAD (H-Y-D)

SINBAD
Our thanks, mighty Sultan.

Parisa looks up at him lovingly.
Sinbad turns, takes the pillow from Sadi, holding Parisa (h-model) carefully cradled in it. Sinbad moves toward the gangway.

Dissolve To:

Int. Caliph's Throne Room (S)

They are gathered before the Caliph's throne, discussing the month's reprieve and the means of restoring Parisa.

Sinbad

(to Sokurah)

Tell us quickly, what must be done.

Sokurah

There is one secret potion — to remove the evil charm.

Sinbad

Then mix the potion with no more delay.

Sokurah

We lack the most vital drug of the mixture. A piece of shell from the egg of the giant bird called the Roc.

Close Shot Sinbad (S)

Sinbad

(reaction)

The monstrous bird which nests in the peaks of Colossa?

Close Shot Sokurah (S)

Sokurah

The same. Without this shell, the potion is useless.

Three Shot Featuring Sinbad (S)

Sinbad and the Caliph grimly stare at Sokurah for a moment.
SINBAD
We have no choice, O Caliph. I must sail for the island and bring back the egg shell.

SOKURAH
No, the Princess must go with us. For only in my castle can the potion be used.

CALIPH
I'll order your ship to be provisioned at once.

SINBAD
(to Sokurah)
We will need your giant crossbow.
(to Caliph)
The palace jeweler can make a tiny home for the princess.

CALIPH
Where will you find a crew, Sinbad?

SINBAD
The bravest of my former men will sail with me.

CALIPH
But that will not be enough to man the ship. Where will you find others?

SINBAD
I'll find them -- where men fear the headman's axe more than the cyclops.

The prison is a grim, high-walled building, with narrow windows, a moat, and guards stationed on corner turrets.

QUICK DISSOLVE TO:
EXT. PRISON COURTYARD (S) - DAY

161 FULL SHOT PRISONERS
The courtyard is surrounded by the stone walls of the prison. A number of prisoners are already standing in the courtyard and others are being herded in through a wide door leading into the prison building.

162 MEDIUM SHOT SINBAD, HARUFA AND GUARDS
On a raised platform at one side of the courtyard, Sinbad and Harufa stand with several armed prison guards and a colorfully uniformed attendant from the Caliph's palace. The attendant raises a long trumpet and blows a fanfare of the kind used to announce official proclamations. The prisoners become quiet, and Sinbad steps forward on the platform.

SINBAD
I am Captain Sinbad... I am here with an offer of freedom for those with the courage to take it!

163 PANNING SHOT THE PRISONERS as they react to Sinbad's words. A low laugh of disbelief and derision sweeps over them. CAMERA PANS SLOWLY over the sea of faces, as seen by Sinbad. The prisoners are without exception a grim, hardened, violent lot. CAMERA HOLDS on the toughest of the entire group -- a large, brawny man with a tarred pigtail and a pock-marked face. This is KARIM, leader of the prisoners and their spokesman.

KARIM
(mocking laugh)
Freedom! We have forgotten what freedom means!

164 MEDIUM CLOSE SHOT SINBAD
SINBAD
I have come to raise a crew for a hard and dangerous voyage to the Island of Colossa

SCENES 165 AND 166 OMITTED.

KHARIM
The land of the Cyclops! —
We may be thieves and murderers

BACK TO SINBAD CLOSE SHOT

SINBAD
I offer you a full pardon.

REVERSE ANGLE THE PRISONERS
as they react strongly, angry and fearful. It is a long moment before Golar, a giant prisoner, silences them with a gesture of his huge arms.

GOLAR
You offer us a choice of two kinds of death.

SINBAD
I fought with the Cyclops and here I stand -- alive as you!
(pointing to Harufa)
This man was at my side, and he sails with me again.

SCENE 170 OMITTED.

ANOTHER ANGLE FULL SHOT (S)
The men gather in a large group, talking and muttering among themselves. Sinbad and Harufa stand fast, gazing over them.
Finally the prisoners look up at Sinbad again.

SINBAD
Well, we need five and twenty men. What'll it be -- Freedom
-- or the sharp edge of the headsman's axe?

KHARIM
(looking about him)
I'll not lay my head on the block!
I'll spit in the Cyclops' eye first! Sign me on!

Kharim steps forward to give his name to Sinbad, who prepares to make the crew list. Kharim's decision sways the

EXT. SHIP'S FOREDECK - DAY

FULL SHOT AT GANGWAY (S) (CB)

Sinbad and the Caliph are on deck watching the last of the supplies being loaded. In the background, a number of sailors are struggling with a huge oversize arrow which they are bringing on board.

SINBAD
(calling to the men)
Take it forward -- and lash it down with the rest.

The men carry the great arrow past camera as the Caliph turns to look at them.

CALIPH
(quiet aside)
I would rather sail with a ship-load of unleashed tigers.

SINBAD
(tight smile)
On this voyage, courage is the only virtue required. It outweighs all vices.

SCENES 172A, 172B, 173 AND 174 OMITTED.
I would not say they lacked courage -- else they would frighten each other... Farewell, Sinbad. May Allah fill your sails with favorable winds.

The Caliph lays a fatherly hand on Sinbad's shoulder for a brief moment, then turns and moves off quickly. Sinbad watches him leave, then turns toward the bow, lifting his head to call out his orders.

SINBAD
(calling)
Cast off the starboard bow line...
Hoist the mains'l!

EXT. SHIP'S MAINSAIL - DAY

as the sail is hoisted into position and swells out, catching the breeze. Sound of creaking ropes, ad lib commands and shouts of the crew, with music up to cover as we:

FADE OUT.

INT. SINBAD'S CABIN (S-D) - DAY

He enters and seats himself at his map table. Parisa's jeweled case, small (prop), is on the table in the foreground.

SINBAD
I am here, Parisa --
Parisa opens the door a crack, looks out, then moves out of the box. The inside of the jeweled case has been fitted and padded so that Parisa can comfortably sit in it. On the sides are padded rings which she can clutch for support. As she stands near the map, legs apart, she stretches.

SINBAD'S VOICE

Ah, my Princess —

SCENE 178 OMITTED.

SINBAD

I fear it may be a long and tedious voyage for you.

PARISA

I shall never complain, as long as I remain close to you.

SINBAD

A dangerous voyage, too — in spite of all the plans we have made.

PARISA

(smiling)

If you were as small as I, you could walk unseen before the giants.

SINBAD

They are not the only danger —

We must sail uncharted waters, with a doubtful crew.

Sinbad's finger traces the map.

I sometimes think of their surprise if they could see me as I am...

178F CLOSE SHOT SINBAD

SINBAD
I do not trust them out of my sight... or in it.

CAMERA MOVES to a CLOSEUP of Sinbad. There is deep forboding in his eyes.

EXT. THE SHIP - NIGHT

179 FULL SHOT (M or X)
It sails through the silvery glitter of a full moon.

EXT. DECK OF SHIP - DAY (S)

180 FULL SHOT GOLAR KHARIM JAFA AND OTHERS
The men are grouped at the ship's rail, eating biscuits and beans. Golar wolf's his food, then turns his face into the wind and breathes deeply. His huge chest grows even more massive.

GOLAR
(exhaling)
It's good to eat hearty and be free again...

KHARIM
Free -- ? For what? Free to be bitten in half by a one-eyed monster? You're a fool, Golar...

180A CLOSE SHOT SOKURAH (S)
He is starting up the ladder to the deck, where the men are talking. Suddenly he stops to listen.

KHARIM'S VOICE
... we're all fools!

180B GROUP SHOT ON DECK (S)

JAFA
What do you mean?

KHARIM
If we're to fight for our lives, let us fight against men -- not monsters!

There is a mutter of approval from the crew. Kharim looks around, then lowers his voice.

KHARIM
(continuing)
There are rich prizes plying the coastal waters... This ship can be ours for the taking.

GOLAR
What of those men who are loyal to the Captain?
Kharim's Voice
We'll feed them to the fish!

Sokurah moves off towards Sinbad's cabin.

Kharim looks up as if he sees something, then motions the men to silence.

Kharim turns to the men with a smile. He nods his head, and moves off in Sokurah's direction.

Sokurah looks about to make sure they are alone.

Sokurah
I would have words with you, Captain.

There is the sound of a bolt sliding, and Sinbad comes out. Sokurah looks about to make sure they are alone.

Sokurah
(continuing)
There are signs of unrest among the crew... I have heard dangerous mutterings...

Sinbad
I had Harufa search the men. All weapons have been locked in the forward cabin. Without knives or swords, they can do nothing. We've sailed a week already. In a few more days we should reach the island.
CONTINUED:

Sinbad turns and enters the cabin. CAMERA PANS with Sokurah. As he moves past a pile of trunks lashed to the deck, we discover Kharim and Galar watching Sokurah closely. Kharim draws a knife and turns a wicked smile to Galar.

SCENES 182 THROUGH 191 OMITTED.

INT. SIKHAD'S CABIN - DAY

192 MEDIUM SHOT SINBAD AND PARISA (H-S-D)

Sinbad moves from the door to his table which is set with the mid-day meal. As he sits down, Parisa ventures out of her jeweled case and sits on the cork of Sinbad's wine bottle. Sinbad starts to eat, but puts down his food.

PARISA

Something troubles your appetite, Sinbad.

SINBAD

... I shall be glad when we arrive.
as she walks up from the cork to Sinbad's plate. She sits on the rim of the plate.

PARISA
(smiling)
How can you still love a tiny insignificant female like myself, Sinbad?

He smiles warmly.

SINBAD
A diamond is a tiny thing...yet it is very precious...and beautiful.

He moves a hand towards Parisa.

Sinbad places his hand on the table near Parisa, and she gently lays her hand on one of his fingers. Suddenly there is a sound of a crash up on the deck, followed by running footsteps and the clash of swordsplay. Sinbad leaps up, overturning his chair.

Quickly -- Princess...

as she leaves her table, dashes to the jewel box and climbs into it quickly. She closes the lid.

The door flies open as a heavy boot splinters it. Golar, looking beastial and terrifying, stands in the opening, a huge wooden club in his hand. The sound of battle continues from above.
195A  CLOSE SHOT SINBAD
He stands taking the measure of Golar.

195B  CLOSE DOWN SHOT ON TABLE PARISA
She looks out from her jewelled case, then suddenly her eye is attracted to the skylight above Sinbad.

195C  UP SHOT THE SKYLIGHT
as two mutineers crash through it and plummet down past camera in a shower of glass. (Effects Dept: Check candy glass in Spain.)

195D  FULL SHOT THE CABIN
Sinbad, forewarned, leaps safely aside, whirling a chair at the oncoming Golar as he does. The two new assailants drop into the scene. Sinbad, his sword drawn, engages them.

195E  CLOSE SHOT GOLAR
He picks himself up heavily.

195F  FULL SHOT SINBAD AND ASSAILANTS
Sinbad is giving a good account of himself. He runs one of the men through, and is about to account for the second. Golar starts for Sinbad.

195G  CLOSE DOWN SHOT ON TABLE PARISA
She sees Golar advancing on Sinbad and tries to attract his attention -- by jumping up and down and shouting.

PARISA
Over here -- you big --- Ugh!

In desperation, she throws the bottle cork at him.

195H  FULL SHOT SINBAD AND ASSAILANTS
Golar is about to bring his club down when he is attracted by Parisa's voice. He turns and looks -- unable to believe his eyes. He reaches out for Parisa but she runs into her case. Sinbad turns in time to deliver a stunning blow to Golar. He drops to the floor. Sinbad picks up the jewelled case, pockets it, then runs for the cabin door.

EXT. DECK OF SHIP (S)

196  FULL SHOT CREW AND MUTINEERS
The faithful men of Sinbad's former crew, armed with swords, are giving a good account of themselves against the mutineers.
CONTINUED:

who are armed only with belaying pins. Some of the mutineers are giving up.

ANOTHER ANGLE HARUFA AND MUTINEERS

Harufa, armed, is fighting gamely against a number of mutineers. The door to the passage-way bursts open, and Sinbad hurls himself into the fight. Sinbad slashes a rope, bringing a sail canvas down upon the confused mutineers. The balance of power is not heavily in favor of Harufa and Sinbad. They rout the mutineers. Sinbad runs after them, stopping in front of the camera in a CLOSE SHOT. The exultation of victory drains from his face.

SCENES 198 AND 199 OMITTED.

WHAT HE SEES SOKURAH AND KHARIM

Kharim has Sokurah pinned with his back to the mainmast, the top of Kharim's sword at his throat; Kharim appears to be about to thrust the sword through Sokurah.

SINBAD'S VOICE

Stop — we surrender!

Kharim halts, his sword point touching the magician's throat. The noise of battle dies out around them. Kharim turns toward Sinbad's voice.

ANOTHER ANGLE SINBAD

SINBAD

Do not kill him!

(throws down his sword)

Harufa, we must give up.

FULL SHOT SINBAD AND OTHERS (S)

Harufa reluctantly drops his sword, and the few remaining faithful crewmen drop their wooden clubs or captured weapons. The mutineers quickly begin gathering them together. Sinbad walks toward Kharim, who lowers his sword from Sokurah.

KHARIM

(ironically)

This is a touching show of friendship!... Take their swords.

The mutineers disarm Sinbad and Harufa. Kharim flicks his blade deftly at Sokurah's throat, cutting the cord of his black cloak. He lifts the cloak with the point of his sword and tosses it to his confederates.

KHARIM
Here... The magician's cloak will make a flag for us.

EXT. QUARTERDECK

203 MEDIUM SHOT KHARIM, SINBAD, SOKURAH AND HARUFA
Kharim turns his attention to the captives.

KHARIM
(shouting)
Here are the men who would feed us to the one-eyed monster!
What shall we do with them?

MUTINEERS' VOICES
(shouting discordantly)
Hang them! Hang them!

KHARIM
(to Sinbad)
You hear the verdict. You hang at dawn... and I wish you a night of pleasant dreams!

There is a throaty burst of laughter from the mutineers.

KHARIM
(to sailors)
To those rash few who fought against us, I offer pardon, and the chance to join with us -- or die on a rope!

EXT. MAIN DECK

204 FULL SHOT MUTINEERS AND CAPTIVES
as the few faithful of Sinbad's crew consider this alternative.

EXT. QUARTERDECK (S)

205 NEW ANGLE FEATURING KHARIM

KHARIM
Those who love death better than riches, step up!
There is a pause. No one moves. Then Harufa steps forward. Kharim roughly pushes Harufa towards Sinbad.

Kharim
(turning to crew)
Put him with the others.
(turning to wheel)
Helmman -- take a course due south. We'll circle back to the trade routes.

The mutineers greet Kharim's orders with a shout of joy. Kharim herds Sinbad and Harufa down the steps to the main deck, then pushes Sokurah after them, but Sokurah stops at the top of the steps, lifting his head to shout over the mutineers.

Sokurah
Hear my curse -- for it seals your doom!

His huge and deep voice brings an immediate silence. Kharim is too startled to stop him.

Kharim comes up to Sokurah, kneeling at the head of the stairs in mock supplication.

Kharim
Save us, Magician -- save us!

Kharim bursts into loud laughter. It spreads to the rest of the crew. Then suddenly Kharim's face grows dark. He grabs the magician's tunic and holds him high.

Kharim
For you I shall tie the knot myself -- so you will strangle slowly...

He raises a huge fist and hits the Magician a stunning blow, knocking him down the steps to the main deck.
CLOSE SHOT ANGLE UP Kharim
His enraged face peers down at the fallen Sokurah.

Kharim
Throw them into the forward hold!

INT. SHIP’S HOLD (S)

MEDIUM SHOT Sinbad, Sokurah and Harupa

Lighting is very low key, coming from a barred hatchway somewhere above. The hold is barren except for two rough wooden benches built out from the slanting walls. The three men sit facing one another. Harupa scowls, then turns to Sinbad.

Harupa
We could have sliced them all to bits -- yet you stopped us to save this man who babbles nonsense.

Sokurah
You will see! The wind and current will take them southward and my prophecy will come true.

Sinbad
What makes you so certain?

Sokurah
South of Colossa lies an accursed island inhabited by wailing demons. Their screaming is heard over a hundred leagues, and all who hear it are driven mad. Men crazed by the noise steer their ships onto the jagged rocks, and are devoured by sea serpents.

Harupa
But what is to prevent us from sharing their fate?

Sinbad
We must tear strips from our clothing to stuff our ears.

Harupa
That's fine -- now we won't be driven man -- just eaten by sea monsters.
208 CONTINUED:

Sinbad looks at Harufa tolerantly; he reaches for a candle burning in a nearby holder.

SINBAD

Here... If we wax the cloth, it will stop most of the sound.

Sinbad rips a strip of cloth from the hem of his cloak, and begins waxing the cloth with the candle stub.

DISSOLVE TO:

SCENES 209 THROUGH 211 OMITTED.
EXT. QUARTERDECK - NIGHT (S) RAIN AND WIND

212 MEDIUM SHOT KHARIM AND CREWMAN

The crewman is at the wheel of the ship. The wind has come up and the sails are straining against the rigging. Against the whistle of the wind and the creak of the ropes we begin to hear the sound of wailing island. It is high-pitched, vibrant -- an eerie and nerve-shattering sound. It grows slowly but steadily in volume. Kharim moves into scene to stand beside him, straining to peer forward into the night. Both men are already tense and nervous as the rain beats on their faces. (NOTE: Rain and wind through entire storm sequence).

KHARIM

(angrily)

That wind screams like ten thousand fiends.

(looking aloft)

Ho, the crow's nest! What's ahead?

213 UP SHOT OF CROW'S NEST INCLUDING THE RIGGING (S)

No answer comes from the crow's nest, but the wailing sound grows slightly louder.

214 MEDIUM SHOT KHARIM AND CREWMAN (S)

Kharim stares upward grimly, reacting as he notices the position of the stars.

KHARIM

(to helmsman)

You're four points off course! Why are we drifting westward?

The crewman at the wheel does not answer. He stands gripping the wheel tightly, his jaw clenched and his face strained, absorbed in the rising intensity of sound.

KHARIM

(continuing; shouting)

Alter your course! Steer south-southeast!

The helmsman still does not answer or respond. Kharim moves suddenly, knocking the man down with a blow of his fist. He seizes the wheel and gives it two full turns to the left.

KHARIM

(continuing; shouting upward)

Ho, the crow's nest!
CONTINUED:

There is still no answer but the ever-rising sound of the wailing wind. Kharim turns and yanks the helmsman to his feet.

KHARIM

Has the whole ship gone mad?

The helmsman takes the wheel and Kharim moves quickly to the edge of the quarterdeck, swinging himself up into the rigging, starting to climb toward the crow's nest. CAMERA MOVES IN to MEDIUM CLOSE SHOT of helmsman. His eyes are blank and staring. Slowly he turns the wheel back two full turns to the right, then holds it steady. Sound of the wailing mounts.

INT. SHIP'S HOLD (S) (C B)

MEDIUM SHOT SINBAD HARUFA AND SOKURAH

Lighting is very low key. The stub of the candle burns on one of the benches, throwing flickering shadows. The three men are standing, steadying themselves against the increased pitching of the ship. Bits of cloth are visible in the ears of each. They speak loudly, shouting, to hear one another.

SOKURAH

High winds and high seas surround the demon island.

SINBAD

The sound penetrates, in spite of all -- and the sea grows rougher.

SOKURAH

We cannot be far from it now.

Harufa claps his hands over his ears; dropping onto the bench. Sinbad removes his cloak, wrapping it in several thicknesses around the jewel box containing Parisa. Sound of wailing island is clearly heard, even in the hold.
EXT. SHIP'S RIGGING (S) RAIN AND WIND

216 CLOSE ANGLE KHRIM
as he pauses in his climb, looking up toward the crow's nest, which is o.s. Sound is quite loud.

KHRIM
(shouting upward)
Ho, the lookout!

EXT. CROW'S NEST (S)

217 UP ANGLE THE LOOKOUT
as the lookout peers over the edge of the crow's nest, looking downward. The face is that of a madman; the eyes staring, the mouth distended in a tense grimace. Over the CLOSEUP of the madman, the sound increases in volume.

KHRIM'S VOICE
(calling)
What can you see ahead?

The lookout moves his lips, but no words come. He points a long arm toward the bow, into the night.

EXT. RIGGING (S)

218 CLOSE ANGLE KHRIM
as he stares upward, inaudibly cursing the lookout. For a moment he pauses, steadying himself with one hand, clutching at his head with the other, as though to drive away the sound. Then he starts to climb again.

EXT. MAIN DECK (S)

219 MEDIUM CLOSE SHOT TWO CREWMEN
They emerge from a hatchway and stand swaying on the deck, their eyes wild.

FIRST CREWMAN
This is the curse of the weird man to be hanged! We must release him!

SECOND CREWMAN
We dare not. Kharim will --

They are interrupted by a falling knife which sticks in the deck at their feet. Both look up toward the crow's nest.
EXT. CROW'S NEST (S)

220 UP ANGLE KHARIM AND LOOKOUT

as they struggle together in the cramped lookout quarters.
Kharim gets one arm free, brings it down across the back of the lookout's head in a stunning blow. The man folds.
Kharim seizes his spy glass and holds it to his eye, peering forward.

TELESCOPE VIGNETTE WAVES AND JAGGED ROCKS - NIGHT (X)

221 MEDIUM LONG SHOT

The white spray is hurled into the air as the huge waves break against the rocks.

EXT. CROW'S NEST (S)

222 CLOSE ANGLE KHARIM

KHARIM
(shouting downward)
Rocks dead ahead! Full port rudder!

EXT. QUARTERDECK (S)

223 MEDIUM CLOSE SHOT HELMSMAN

as he holds the wheel steady, seemingly in a trance.

EXT. MAIN DECK (S)

224 MEDIUM CLOSE SHOT THE TWO CREW MEN

FIRST CREWMAN
(peering aft)
The helmsman does not turn!

SECOND CREWMAN
(bit wildly)
He knows! We are doomed -- let us die and be done with it!

The first crewman reacts briefly, turns and moves off, entering a hatchway leading below. CAMERA PANS WITH second crewman as he wanders dazedly to the rail of the ship, peering downward and forward toward the rocks and the ever-mounting sound. Other members of the crew begin to pour onto the deck, clutching their heads.
INT. SHIP'S HOLD - NIGHT (S)

225 MEDIUM SHOT SINBAD SOKURAH HARUFA
A sudden thumping at the heavy door makes them all turn toward it. Sound of a heavy bolt and wooden bars being withdrawn, then the door swings open. The first crewman from the scene on deck stands in the doorway, out of breath and disheveled.

FIRST CREWMAN
The ship is heading for the jagged rocks! Save us!

Sinbad and Sokurah need no second invitation. They rush through the doorway, followed closely by Harufa. The crewman pauses in the doorway for a moment, finally cracking under the pressure of the sound. He seizes his head, his eyes glaze and he crumples to the deck.

EXT. ROCKS AND WAVES (PROCESS) (H-X-D) - NIGHT

226 FULL SHOT
Rocks and waves now seen much closer than before. The spray dashes high in the air from the crashing waves. Suddenly, a huge tentacle emerges from the depths and waves probingly through the air.

EXT. MAIN DECK (S)

227 FULL SHOT CREWMEN
Those near the railing react with horror to the sight of the tentacle. Sound of the wailing is very loud now and is having its full effect. The crewmen are behaving irrationally; some rolling on the deck, some crawling on hands and knees, others clinging numbly to parts of the ship.

EXT. CROW'S NEST (S)

228 UP ANGLE KHARIM
Even he is finally breaking under the sound. He clings to the edge of the crow's nest, his jaw clenched, his face distorted, eyes staring.

EXT. QUARTERDECK

229 MEDIUM SHOT SINBAD SOKURAH AND OTHERS (S)
as Sinbad, the magician and Harufa emerge onto the quarterdeck and begin to take charge. Harufa yanks the numbed helmsman from the wheel and sends him spinning across the deck. Sinbad seizes the wheel and turns it hard to the left. The magician and Harufa crouch close to Sinbad, shouting in each other's ears to be heard.
SOKURAH
There is a narrow channel through the rocks. It is our only chance!

SINBAD
Go to the port railing! Signal me when we draw too close!
Harufa, take the starboard side!

Sokurah and Harufa nod agreement, moving off to their respective posts at the railing. The wind has continued to mount with the noise and now the deck is being drenched with a fine spray from the waves against the rocks. The spray and the night combine to cut visibility very low.

EXT. WAVES AND JAGGED ROCKS (S)

230 MEDIUM SHOT
waves and jagged rocks as they loom suddenly out of the darkness to the portside of the ship.

EXT. QUARTERDECK (S)

231 MEDIUM SHOT SOKURAH AND SINBAD
Sokurah peers over the rail, waves a warning gesture to Sinbad. Sinbad responds by turning the wheel quickly to the right.

EXT. CROW'S NEST (S)

232 UP ANGLE KHARIM
His face reflects the madness which has control of him. Abruptly he reacts, staring o.s. with a new and greater horror.

EXT. BOILING SEA (S)

233 MEDIUM SHOT HUGE TENTACLE
The tentacle curls menacingly through the air, showing huge suction cups on the under side. Sound reaches a peak of intensity.

EXT. CROW'S NEST (S)

234 KARIM
as he cracks suddenly. With a scream he lunges forward.
EXT. CROW'S NEST (DUMMY) (S)

235 UP ANGLE KHARIM
He hurls himself out of the crow's nest, falling o.s. past camera. His scream trails off, blending with the wall of the island.

EXT. MAIN DECK (S)

236 MEDIUM SHOT KHARIM AND CREWMEN
Kharim's body lies sprawled on the deck. The crewmen look at it without comprehension. Seized again by the sound, they writhe helplessly.

EXT. QUARTERDECK (S)

237 MEDIUM SHOT SINBAD AND HARUFA
as Harufa gestures wildly, pointing o.s. Sinbad whirs the wheel to the left, then holds it steady. Their faces show the great strain they are under.

EXT. BOW OF SHIP (S)

238 CLOSE ANGLE
as the ship barely slides by a jagged rock on which the waves are breaking.

EXT. QUARTERDECK (S)

239 CLOSE SHOT SINBAD
He grits his teeth and closes his eyes for a moment, fighting the sound. The spray from the waves whips around him.

EXT. WAVES AND JAGGED ROCKS (S)

240 MEDIUM SHOT
waves and jagged rocks as they move away, facing to the stern of the ship. The intensity of the wailing sound breaks, begins to fade slightly, but noticeably. Rocks and sound both continue to fade as we... (NOTE: End of wind and rain).

SLOWLY DISSOLVE TO:
EXT. MAIN DECK OF SHIP - DAY (S) (C B)

214.1 FULL SHOT
The crew are sprawled on the deck in attitudes of complete exhaustion. In their midst lies the crumpled body of Kharim, still lying in the position in which he fell. Sinbad and Sokurah have collected the weapons the crewmen had, and are locking them in the forward armory. Then Sinbad moves among the collapsed crewmen, rousing them.

SINBAD
(shouting)
All right, all hands look alive now!

The crewmen stir themselves, getting slowly to their feet, still very weak and shaken.

EXT. QUARTERDECK (S) (C B)

214.2 CLOSE ANGLE SINBAD
as he mounts the steps overlooking the main deck. In the b.g. Harufa stands at the wheel of the ship.

SINBAD
(pointing)
There lies the leader of your mutiny. Wrap him in his hammock and throw him over the side!

SCENES 243 AND 244 OMITTED.
CONTINUED:

SINEAD (cont'd)
(turning to Harufa)
Steer a course west-northwest!
Sharp lookout for the peak! Colossal!

Sound of the crew shouting in agreement as we:

FADE OUT.
FADE IN:

EXT. ISLAND OF COLOSSA - DAY (MATTE - PAINTING)

245 FULL SHOT SHIP AND HARBOR

SCENES 246 THROUGH 253 OMITTED.

EXT. ISLAND BEACH - DAY (S)

254 FULL SHOT ROCKY CLIFFS OF COLOSSA

As the familiar birds wheel overhead, CAMERA PANS down to the beach where two longboats are drawn up on the sand. The full complement of the ship's crew is helping to unload the great arrow (prop) which is lashed across the two longboats. Harufa, leading the way, comes up to the foreground where he joins Sinbad and Sokurah.

HARUFA

The crossbow is assembled and ready.

They look off past camera.

255 WHAT THEY SEE THE CROSSBOW (H-S-D)

The giant crossbow is assembled and pointed toward the far end of the beach. In the foreground, the crew is carrying the huge arrow toward the crossbow.

SINBAD'S VOICE

Keep the men at the weapon at all times...

HARUFA

I would rather go with you...

SINBAD

(warm smile)

I know, my friend -- but you are more valuable here.

He claps Harufa warmly on the shoulder.

SINBAD

(to Sokurah)

Everything is in readiness.

We leave as soon as it is dark.
CONTINUED:

Sinbad and Harufa move past to follow the arrow. CAMERA MOVES UP to a CLOSEUP of Sokurah; his eyes burn in anticipation.

DISSOLVE TO:

CLOSE SHOT STONE FACE (H - Miniature)

It is as if the face of Sokurah had dissolved into the stone face. The same weird torchlight that flickered on Sokurah, also lights the stone face.

MEDIUM LONG SHOT STONE FACE SINBAD AND GROUP (H-S-D)

Dwarfed by the immense scale of the stone carving, Sinbad and Sokurah and the men stand facing it.

CLOSE REVERSE SHOT SINBAD SOKURAH AND THE MEN (S)

Sinbad and Sokurah stand together before the men. The light of their torches flickers fitfully over their faces. Sinbad looks up at the night sky, takes a meaning look at Sokurah, then moves off towards the stone head. Reluctantly, the men follow -- the tenseness plainly visible on their faces as they pass Sokurah's torch in turn.

MEDIUM LONG SHOT THE STONE FACE (H-S-D) - NIGHT

The party of men moves toward the mouth of the head. Smoke curls up from the torches.

CLOSE REVERSE SHOT SOKURAH (S)

as the last man passes him. He looks up at the stone face. A faint smile crosses his lips as he moves off.

INT. ROCK TUNNEL - NIGHT

CAMERA SHOOTING from point near the roof of the rocky tunnel as Sinbad passes beneath with the torch. The men following, glance about nervously, their faces tense in the light of the dancing flame. No one speaks. A dislodged rock falls with a hollow sound, bouncing on the tunnel floor. Sokurah brings up the rear of the procession, his dark features menacing in the torchlight.

DISSOLVE TO:
EXT. TUNNEL OPENING - NIGHT (S)

260 MEDIUM SHOT SINBAD AND OTHERS
The tunnel opens onto the valley through a concealed cleft in the rock. Sinbad leads the men out into the small clearing. Sinbad is joined by Sokurah in the f.g. Sokurah draws a scroll from his cloak and unrolls it in the torchlight.

(hushed voice)
This is the map we must follow.

INSERT: MAP
The torchlight flickers on it as Sokurah's hand traces the map.

SOKURAH'S VOICE
Beyond here, in the center of the island, are the peaks in which the great birds nest.

260A MEDIUM CLOSE SHOT SINBAD AND SOKURAH

SINBAD
Then we must cross the valley of the cyclops...

SOKURAH
(nodding)
We separate into two groups here --

Sinbad looks at Sokurah in suspicious surprise.

SOKURAH
(quickly)
Thus if either group is captured, the other may attempt to free them.

SINBAD
Good -- I agree. A smaller band of men may more easily elude the eye of the giants.

SOKURAH
(pointing)
We meet here -- at the two sharp rocks which mark the trail to the mountains -- tomorrow night.

Sinbad turns, signals his group of men, and leads them off past camera.
The tiny figure of Harufa, torch in hand, stands facing the great stone head.

His eyes are riveted up at the stone head. He swallows hard, takes a last look back to the beach; then, with fear and trembling, moves toward the stone head.

as the tiny figure is swallowed up in the mouth of the stone face.

The grey light of dawn fills the sky. The fog rises out of the damp leaves on the ground. Sokurah, still carrying his lighted torch, leads his men to the bank of a small pool.

SOKURAH
We will stop here and proceed again at nightfall.

The men start to relax, sitting or lying on the ground. The largest and toughest of the men, GOLAR, lifts his goatskin water jug and squirts a long drink into his mouth. The Magician observes him, reacting.

SOKURAH
You — Golar! Drink not so deeply. You will need that water on tomorrow's climb.

GOLAR
(grumbling)
Why so miserly? We can fill our jugs from the pool when they are empty.

Sokurah moves to the edge of the pool and peers into it.

The water is colored like burgundy wine. (NOTE: props -- check dye.)
SOKURAH
(prophetically)
That water is poison.

He thrusts his torch into the water, dousing it. It hisses red steam.

GOLAR
(reacting)
Poison?

SOKURAH
The man whose lips it touches is dead in a moment -- (smiles)
Would you care to try it?

Golar looks down at the water as though he were considering a test of Sokurah's prophetic power. CAMERA PANS DOWN to Golar's reflection in the placid pool.

HARUFU

No!

SINBAD

(quietly)
Sh-h-h. Quiet! What are you doing here?

(smiling)
Don't worry about the crossbow, Master — it is in good hands.

Sinbad gives Harufa a questioning glance.

SINBAD

Let us get back to the others... We must be gone before the Cyclops returns.

Stealthily, they move out.

INT. CYCLOPS TREASURE STORE (S)

SHOOTING OUT FROM DOORWAY
In the b.g., through a rough opening between two stones, is the waterfall. Harufa and Sinbad run into the opening. Harufa runs past camera, but Sinbad stops in a close shot, to look off in amazement.

WHAT HE SEES REVERSE SHOT THE TREASURE (S)
Hoarded in immense profusion are great quantities of diamonds and jewels, magnificent strands of pearls and emeralds -- priceless goblets and objects of gold and silver -- laces, tapestries, all manner of wealth. The men of Sinbad's group crazed with new-found riches, are stuffing gold coins and jewels into their shirts and pockets, until it seems they can hold no more. One of them is staggering under the weight of two trunks of treasure which he can barely support.
HARUFA
(starting to load up)
We're rich! We're rich! Come,
Master -- take your fill of riches!! Pearls -- diamonds -- rubies -- gold -- Everything!

CLOSE SHOT SINBAD (S)
He looks at the men for a moment, then moves toward them.

FULL SHOT TREASURE STORE (S)
as Sinbad strides across toward the massive pile of treasure trunks. He seizes the first man, tearing the heavy strands of pearls from his neck and slapping the gold chalices out of his arms.

SINBAD
Out of here -- all of you!
There will be time for treasure
after we finish our mission.

He hurls the crewman, JAPA, over toward the doorway. Then dives upon the next sailor, upsetting the heavy chests on his back. The sailor starts to fight Sinbad.

SINBAD
Out! Or by Allah, I'll run you through!

CLOSE SHOT THE CREWMAN JAPA (S)
He picks himself up and hurls himself into the fray, CAMERA PANNING WITH him. Harufa drops his armful of treasure and dives in to help Sinbad. Suddenly there is a great grinding sound, and a shaft of light spreads into the dimly lit room.
The men all stop fighting and look up.

WHAT THEY SEE UP SHOT THE CYCLOPS (H-MINIATURE)
The great stone ceiling slides aside, revealing the Cyclops glaring balefully down on the men who are caught like mice in a box. He grins, baring his snaggly teeth.

The men race toward the space between the rocks.

He reaches down for the men.

EXT. FOREST CLEARING - DAY (S)

The men have gathered around Golar, intently listening to him.

GOLAR

Must we wait here while our comrades are killed — just because of the word of the magician?

FIRST CREWMAN

He has strange powers. We dare not disobey him.

GOLAR

Who dares not? I do not fear him.

SECOND CREWMAN

Then prove it — drink from the pool he has forbidden.

The other crewmen laugh at this taunt. Golar looks grim, then forces a laugh.

GOLAR

You think I am afraid of his lies? — Hah!

He moves to the edge of the stream, all eyes upon him. He kneels, staring at the dark water, trying not to show his hesitancy.

SECOND CREWMAN

(tauntingly)

Goodbye, fearless one.

The crew laughs again. Humiliated, Golar plunges one hand into the water, lifts it out, looks at it, then gingerly sucks up the liquid from one finger.

as he waits tensely for a reaction. Several seconds go by, and he feels no ill effects. He licks another portion of his hand, then looks up, grinning.

GOLAR

It tastes like wine!

284 ANOTHER ANGLE GOLAR AND MEN

as they crowd around him at the edge of the stream. Boldly Golar cups his hand, dips it in the stream, then drinks deeply. The men watch him intently. He laughs when he finishes drinking.

GOLAR

It's good! Like choice wine!

The other crewmen join in the laughter, all starting to drink from the stream, either cupping their hands or plunging their faces in as they lie on the bank.

GOLAR

(continuing; laughing)
Poison!... Poison, he told us!

FIRST CREWMAN

A lovely way to die!

SECOND CREWMAN

We are already in Heaven!

GOLAR

I am still alive -- I must drink more!

Golar drinks, the others laugh.

Escape? -- How?

SINBAD
Never reveal what you are about to see.

THIRD CREWMAN
Anything -- only save us.

Sinbad reaches into the pocket of his cloak and takes out the tiny jeweled case containing Parisa. The crewmen look at it, then at each other, as though to ask if Sinbad is crazy. Sinbad opens the box.

I shall try with all my strength.

Sinbad slips Parisa through the wooden bars of the cage, lifting her up onto the solid lid.

She steps off Sinbad's hand and moves across the top of the cage.

as she struggles with the wooden peg which secures the catch. It is huge in relationship to her, and she cannot move it. She struggles with it for a moment, then stops to catch her breath.

(calling softly)
It is stuck -- I cannot move it.

You must, my Princess. It is our only hope.

Parisa again begins to push the wooden peg.

GOLAR
Listen! Listen, mates! Must we hide here so quietly...

No! ... Who's afraid!

GOLAR

318A CLOSE SHOT SINBAD (S)
He jumps down from the barbecue and runs to Sokurah.

EXT. TOP OF ROCKS

MOVING SHOT SINBAD AND CYCLOPS (H-S-D)

The cyclops stands, moving awkwardly after the sound.

EXT. ROCKY PLATEAU

LONG SHOT SINBAD AND CYCLOPS (H-S-D)

CAMERA PANS down from the landmark which marks the trail leading to the Roc bird nests. Survivors of the encounter with the cyclops have gathered in a small group around a sheltered campfire. Those who were in the drunken group look and act miserable, squatting with their heads in their hands. There are about six men remaining, besides the magician and Sinbad, whom we see in the f.g. Sinbad holds the lamp. The magician motions to Sinbad, and they withdraw from the group a short distance.

SINBAD and SOKURAH

SINBAD: If you wish the Genie's protection, you may have it -- by telling me the words which will summon him.

SOKURAH: (after pause)
If I am to help the Princess, you must trust me.

SINBAD: How can I? When I called you to open the cage you made no attempt to free us. The lamp is more important to you than our lives.

SOKURAH: I sought the lamp first, because with it I could assure your protection.
He studies the magician for a long moment, hefting the lamp in his hands. The magician glances from the lamp back to Sinbad.

SINBAD
A fair enough reason... I do not understand the power of this lamp, but if we need it, it shall be safely in my grasp.

Sokurah looks grim and then quickly changes his expression to one of friendly agreement.

SOKURAH

As you say...

SINBAD

Here we will rest and eat. We must be sparing with our provisions.

One of the crewmen, a lean, hawk-faced man, gives a short, bitter laugh. This is RAJAN. Sinbad turns toward him, and he holds up half of a dry ship's biscuit.

He teeters on the edge for an instant, then plunges backward off the cliff with a piercing scream.

CREWMAN
Poor Rajan -- so worried about his dinner.

(pointing o.s.)
Look -- we have reached our goal.

At the far side of the clearing, in a low nest of twigs and small branches is the huge egg of the Roc. It stands taller than a man's head. Sinbad and his men move into the scene, examining the egg with interest. Sinbad lays his head against the side of the egg, listening, showing surprise.

SINBAD
There is something moving inside!

SOKURAH
It is the season for the young birds to hatch.

(looking around with anxiety)
Come, we must move on.
dm

SINBAD
Why so? We need a piece of this eggshell. We have found it.

SOKURAH
We will find others. Higher there will be a shell of an egg already hatched.

The crewmen react unfavorably to the idea of further climbing.

FIRST CREWMAN
No more climbing! We are starving.

SECOND CREWMAN
Let us break open the egg and roast the creature! There is plenty for all.

The crewman who made the suggestion runs to the egg, raises a short battle axe and chops a hole in the end of the egg. The others start to follow his example.

EXT. CLEARING (S)

as the magician confronts Sinbad, his face grave.

SOKURAH
You should not have let them do that.

SINBAD
Hungry men are not easily governed.
They do not ask, they take.

He is interrupted by sound of startled reaction from the o.s. crewmen as they succeed in breaking open the egg. Sinbad and Sokurah both look toward it.

The shell has split wide, and from it rolls the grotesque, two-headed chick of the giant Roc. The baby bird is as large as two or three of the crewmen together.

It makes feeble efforts to walk, but the crewman with the axe moves in on it, raising his weapon for the death blow.
466 CLOSER SHOT TWO MEN (S)
They move forward with up-raised spears. They charge into camera.

467 TWO SHOT SINBAD AND SOKURAH (S)

SINBAD
Let them roast their bird and eat. Come -- we must break off a piece of the shell.

Sinbad and Sokurah start to move off toward the egg.

468 MEDIUM CLOSE SHOT SINBAD SOKURAH AND EGG (H-S-D)
as Sinbad breaks off a portion of the eggshell, then hands part of it to the magician. The chick has been slain, and is seen in the b.g. The men pull the spears from its body.

SINBAD
(handing shell)
Take this. The Princess must be restored without delay --

SOKURAH
The eggshell must be combined with other elements to be found in my castle here on the island.

SINBAD
How long will it take?

SOKURAH
The entrance is at the foot of these peaks --

SINBAD
But that is at the edge of the Cyclops domain... What protects your castle from them?

SOKURAH
You will see -- when we reach the cave.

DISSOLVE TO:
EXT. CLEARING - DAY

369. MEDIUM SHOT CREWMEN roasting bird. A large campfire has been prepared in the clearing. Supported over the flames by small boulders is a huge drumstick of the bird. Two men are gathered around it, in high spirits at the sight of such a meal, carving themselves a piece of meat.

EXT. HIGH ROCKS (S)

370 MEDIUM CLOSE SHOT SINBAD
He sits within sound of the men in the clearing, and they can be heard in the b.g. He reaches into the pocket of his cloak, pulls out the jeweled case and opens it.

INT. JEWELED CASE (Y)

371 CLOSE SHOT PARISA
She smiles and stretches her arms to Sinbad o.s. in greeting.

PARISA
Thank you, Sinbad. I'm glad to breathe the fresh air.

EXT. ROCKS

372 MEDIUM CLOSE SHOT SINBAD AND PARISA (H-S-D)
Parisa's case rests on the flat shelf of rock. Sinbad's face is brought close to her.

SINBAD
Good news, my Princess. We have the eggshell which will make the magic potion effective

PARISA
Your words are happy — but your face is sad. Why are you troubled?

373 ANOTHER ANGLE (S)

SINBAD
I do not trust the magician...
Our only hold on him is this magic lamp -- and he, alone, knows the secret of its power.
PARISA
(bit excited)
Sinbad, I have an idea. Let me try to talk with the Genie.

SINBAD'S VOICE
How? I do not understand.

PARISA
Small as I am, I can easily enter the lamp -- and perhaps learn how to call the Genie.

SINBAD
But is it possible?

PARISA
Who knows what is possible within a magic lamp? ... Please, Sinbad ... let me try.

Sinbad pauses, considering the proposition. Finally he gives a slow, serious nod of agreement.

SINBAD
All right. But if all is not well, you must call quickly and I will get you out again.

PARISA
I shall, I promise.

as he unfastens the lamp from around his waist, turns and sets it on the shelf of rock beside Parisa.

She smiles at Sinbad, then slowly lowers herself through the opening down into the spout of the lamp (very large section of upper portion of lamp). The opening is just large enough to accommodate her body. She lowers herself until only her hands show above the rim of the spout.

as he crouches anxiously over the lamp, his face close to it.
CONTINUED: 378

SINBAD
Are you all right, Parisa?

PARISA'S VOICE
(slight echo effect)
Fine. There is a strange glow in here. I'm going to let go and look around.

SINBAD
(urgently)
Be careful!

Parisa's hands disappear from the rim of the lamp. Sinbad remains staring at the lamp. His face shows his worry for Parisa. From o.s. comes the sound of the crewmen laughing, giving ad lib directions for the roasting of the bird. Sinbad glances toward them, then stares intently at the lamp.

INT. MAGIC LAMP (Y)

379 MEDIUM SHOT PARISA
She is sliding downward through neck of magic lamp (set) through a softly swirling fog. Lighting is soft and diffused, from an indefinite source. For several seconds Parisa slowly descends, as the light grows slowly brighter. Finally she comes to rest; the glowing fog parts slightly to reveal a small section of copper-colored floor.

380 MEDIUM CLOSE SHOT PARISA
CAMERA LEADING her as she walks slowly forward, looking around. The swirling fog grows thinner, but the walls and ceiling of the lamp are never visible. (Scene must suggest the infinite spaces of a magic world, not the inside of a metal lamp). Abruptly Parisa stops, reacting with wonder.

381 MEDIUM SHOT PARISA AND GENIE
A small area of clear air opens in the fog, and Parisa is confronted by the Genie. He has the features of a young boy (as in scene at picture opening). He smiles engagingly at Parisa, then bows very deeply.

GENIE
You are welcome here, Princess.

PARISA
(bit surprised)
You know who I am?
CONTINUED:

GENIE

(smiling)
A Genie knows many things.

The Genie turns, gesturing o.s. CAMERA PANS THROUGH fog, which clears to SHOW a small table and two exquisitely wrought gold chairs. On the table are the cups, dishes, and implements for a formal tea. The Genie and Parisa move up to the table, where the Genie holds one of the chairs for Parisa. She seats herself. (NOTE: The copper-colored floor is still all of the set visible; the walls and ceiling remain vague, lost in infinite distances. Parisa and the Genie are both normal size in this scene).

PARISA
But you are tiny, too -- just as I am!

GENIE
(smiles)
How else could I live inside a lamp?

PARISA
Had I known how you lived, I would have visited you sooner.

GENIE
I wish you had. The life of a Genie is often a lonely one.

The Genie pours a steaming amber liquid into their cups, then seats himself. He offers Parisa a tiny slice of cake, then takes one for himself. They eat and drink politely during their conversation. She moves about touching the beautiful decorations.

PARISA
Your home is beautiful. Can you create whatever you want for yourself?

GENIE
(with a gesture)
Within this world, anything is possible for me.

PARISA
Then you must be truly happy.
The most comfortable prison is still a gloomy place.

But aren't you sometimes called in our world to work your wonders?

But then I am summoned as a slave, and I must do the bidding of whoever holds the lamp. I long to escape... to be an adventurer and sail the seas as Captain Sinbad does.

Those are dreams for real boys... not for a Genie...

Once I was a real boy. My mother was beautiful, as you are. But I disobeyed her and ran away. I hid in the reeds by the great river, where the rulers of the spirit world found me and made me the slave of this lamp.

Will you ever return to our world?

Perhaps some day. I have a promise of freedom inscribed in a strange verse in the lamp. Would you care to see it?

I should like to, very much.

Follow me.
as the Genie and Parisa walk through the surrounding mists.

GENIE
When the verse has come to pass,
I shall be free of the lamp, but I cannot return to the real world until I am called -- as my mother called me -- by my name.

PARISA
-- and what is your name?

GENIE
Barani --

The mists part before them to reveal a large copper scroll (which seems to be hanging in space) with a four-line verse inscribed on it. They stop before the scroll.

GENIE
There it is.

PARISA
(reading verse)
When the big that is small
Shall again become tall,
Into fiery rock,
To rise, you must fall...
   (reacting to herself)
   'When the big that is small'...
   ...I was big and now I'm small.

GENIE
(excitedly)
Then you know what it means?

SCENE 385 OMITTED

386 ANOTHER ANGLE FAVORING PARISA

PARISA
Not entirely... but I will make a bargain. If you will help me,
I will help you.

GENIE
What do you want me to do?

PARISA
Tell me the magic words that call you forth from the lamp...
as he considers this proposal. He seems doubtful.

GENIE
I like you. I wish to help -- but I don't know...it's a great power to grant...

PARISA AND GENIE FEATURING PARISA

PARISA
In return I shall try to help you escape from your bondage.
Now tell me -- what words will invoke your protective power?

GENIE
From the land beyond beyond --
From the world past hope and fear--

SCENE 389 OMITTED

EXT. ROCKY CLEARING (S)

The crewmen are in the midst of eating the roasted bird. CAMERA PANS to a CLOSE SHOT of Sokurah. He looks up at the sky - his cloak spread out dramatically behind him. CAMERA MOVES in CLOSER to see that he scans the sky - as if expecting some unseen creature to descend.

EXT. HIGH ROCKS - DAY (H-S-D)

HE looks expectantly at the lamp when suddenly a wisp of mist issues from the spout. Sinbad comes alert.

as Parisa reappears at the mouth of the lamp spout. (More mist follows her out of the spout).

SINBAD
Did you find the Genie?

PARISA
(smiling; enjoying possession of the secret)
We had a most interesting visit.
SINBAD
And did you discover the secret of the lamp?

PARISA
The Genie was very nice...He promised to help us if we would help him.

SINBAD
(impatient to know the secret)
All right, we will help him, but tell me --

PARISA
(teasingly)
Let me catch my breath first. It is a hard journey into the land of the Genie.

CLOSE SHOT SOKURAH (S)
He is still looking up at the sky, but at the same time it is obvious he is trying to eavesdrop on Sinbad and Parisa.

CLOSE SHOT SINSAD AND PARISA (H-Y-D)
Sinbad leans down toward Parisa as she speaks into his ear.

SINBAD
What are the magic words which will invoke the Genie?

PARISA
(softly)
From the land beyond beyond...

SOKURAH'S VOICE
Captain Sinbad!

As Sinbad starts to rise, Parisa drops o.s.

SCENES 394 AND 395 OMITTED

TWO SHOT SINEAD AND SOKURAH (S)
Sinbad stands, buckling the magic lamp to his waist. Sokurah eyes the lamp.
CONTINUED:

SOKURAH

-- er -- The bird is done...
You must be hungry.

Sokurah looks skyward again. Suddenly there is a loud flapping noise and a great gust of wind hits them. Sinbad looks up in horror; Sokurah in satisfaction.

EXT. CLEARING

396 MEDIUM SHOT CREwmEN GIANT ROC (H-S-D)
as they suddenly look up at the rush of wind from the huge bird's wings. They react in horror, dropping their food and running for their lives.

EXT. SKY

397 MEDIUM SHOT CREwmEN GIANT ROC (H-S-D)
The Roc drops down on the crewmen swiftly, giving a raucous shriek; beaks and talons outstretched.

398 UP ANGLE CLOSE SHOT HUGE BIRD (H-S-D)
The Roc drops down on the crewmen swiftly, giving a raucous shriek; beaks and talons outstretched.

399 MEDIUM SHOT SINBAD (H-S-D)
as he reacts to the bird's cry, then looks toward the men in the clearing. He draws his sword and springs to help defend the men against the huge bird.

400 MEDIUM SHOT SINBAD AND MEN AND ROC (H-S-D)
The giant Roc has settled to the ledge. One of her heads darts out toward the group of men. As they retreat to the edge of the cliff, three of the men fall over - their screams fade into the distance. The other crewmen and Harufa swing feverishly at the bird with their sabers.

401 CLOSER SHOT (H-S-D) as one of the huge heads darts into the scene grabbing one of the crewmen in each of its great beaks.

402 MEDIUM SHOT SINBAD MEN AND ROC (H-S-D)
As the sailor struggles in the beak of one head, the other head attacks Harufa and the remaining sailor. Sinbad runs into scene slashing at the bird's neck. The bird drops the limp bodies of the dead sailors from its beaks.

402A CLOSE SHOT SOKURAH (S)
Flattened against a rock, his evil eyes seem to be urging the great bird on.
as they battle. The giant bird knocks the remaining crewman down, ripping him with its sharp talons. He lies motionless and bleeding.

He rubs the magic lamp. Near him, Harufa slashes at the bird.

SINBAD
From the land beyond beyond --

He takes a cut at the bird, then turns to call to Parisa.

SINBAD
(continuing; calling)
Parisa -- the magic words!

as she stands beside the case, transfixed by the sight of the battle.

PARISA
(calling out to Sinbad)
From the world past hope and fear -- still fighting with Harufa at his side.

SINBAD
From the world past hope and fear --

His face darkens -- he moves toward Parisa.

PARISA
(calling out to Sinbad)
I bid you, Genie -- now appear!

He is turned momentarily in Parisa's direction. The giant bird's head comes in.

SINBAD

I bid you, Genie --

SINBAD
(continuing) Parisa -- Parisa!

Standing by her jeweled case. She calls out to Sinbad -- loudly but vainly.

PARISA

419B UP ANGLE WHAT SHE SEES SOKURAH (S) (SEE DRAWING 405)
He stands staring down at her, a malicious smile lighting his dark features. Parisa screams, but her cry is lost in the sound of the battle. Sokurah reaches a huge hand down toward her (camera).

EXT. PEAKS OF COLOSSA - DAY (S)

420 GIANT ROC NEST CLOSE SHOT SINBAD
The nest is fully twelve feet in diameter. Camera starts on an INSERT of the magic lamp, then moves to Sinbad who lies still as death a few feet away. An eyelid flickers, then he draws a deep shuddering breath. In another moment he opens his eyes, blinding to bring the world into focus. Then he reacts, remembering what has happened.

421 MEDIUM SHOT ANOTHER ANGLE SINBAD (S)
as he rolls over painfully and slowly works himself free from the mass of loose rock which partially covers him in the protecting crevice. He stands up, moving his bruised arms and legs carefully, to be sure there are no breaks. He looks over the edge of the nest, reacting with horror and despair.
421A DOWN SHOT WHAT HE SEES (S)
A sheer drop of dizzy depths lies beneath him.

421B MEDIUM SHOT SINBAD (S)
He picks up the lamp and starts carefully over the perilous edge of the Roc nest.

421C FULL UP SHOT THE PEAKS OF COLOSSA (S) as the tiny figure of Sinbad picks its way to the rocky ridges below.

421D FULL SHOT THE CLEARING IN THE ROCKS - DAY (S)
Sinbad drops down from above and walks forward to survey the scene of carnage.

422 MEDIUM SHOT DEAD CREWMEN PANNING (H-S-D)
The crewmen lie sprawled in various postures, Karufa crushed by the falling rock, one crewman torn by the beak, the other by the talons of the great bird. The blackened fire and the remains of the Roc chick add a bizarre touch to the silent, grisly scene.

423 MEDIUM CLOSE SHOT SINBAD (S)
as he picks up Parisa's empty jeweled case.

SINBAD
(calling)
Parisa!... Princess!

No answer but silence and a faint echo. Abruptly Sinbad's face changes; he remembers something.

SINBAD
(calling; looking)
Sokurah... Sokurah!

CAMERA PANS with Sinbad as he makes a quick circuit of the clearing, looking at each of the fallen crewmen, making sure that the magician is not among them. He turns and starts up the short path to the high rocks of the lookout point.

EXT. HIGH ROCKS - (S)

424 MEDIUM CLOSE SHOT SINBAD
as he takes a quick glance around the lookout point for the magician, then pauses, thinking. His face shows his realization of what must have happened. A wave of despair comes over him and he sinks to a sitting position on a shelf of rock.
CONTINUED:

For a long moment he seems utterly defeated, then his expression changes, hope growing once more. He realizes he is staring at the lamp fastened around his waist, and that Parisa has given him the words to invoke the Genie.

ANOTHER ANGLE SINBAD AND LAMP

as Sinbad quickly unfastens his sash and removes the lamp, placing it on the rock shelf before him. He pauses, thinking hard, moving his lips slightly in his effort to recall the words said by Parisa just before the attack of the giant Roc.

SINBAD

(haltingly)
From the land beyond... beyond...

He stops, shaking his head. He thinks another few seconds, then abruptly smiles. He rubs the lamp vigorously three times.

SINBAD

(continuing)
From the world past hope or fear,
I bid you Genie, now appear!

CLOSE SHOT LAMP (H-S-D)

as a dense smoke begins to boil and roll from the spout, coiling upward.

MEDIUM SHOT SINBAD (H-Y-D)

reacting. The smoke rises, whirly and boiling, and from it there appears the Genie. The smoke clears and the Genie stands on the shelf of rock beside the lamp. He makes a deep bow to Sinbad, then smiles engagingly at him.

GENIE

O mighty Sinbad, the slave of the lamp is yours to command!

SINBAD

Tell me where is the Princess Parisa -- ?

GENIE

She is a prisoner of Sokurah the magician, in his underground castle. I will meet you at the cave entrance at the foot of the mountain trail.

434 LONG SHOT WHAT HE SEES VALLEY OF CYCLOPS PANNING (S)
In the f.g. are the two sharp rocks marking the beginning of the trail. Beyond them we see the woods and fields of the cyclops' valley, with the sea far in the b.g. There is no sign of any cyclops in the valley.

EXT. FOOT OF MOUNTAIN - DAY

435 MEDIUM SHOT SINBAD (S)
Sinbad comes off the trail and moves along the foot of some jutting rocks. Suddenly Sinbad is enveloped by a blast of red flame which appears from behind the rock. The flame (flame to be shot against black) burns brightly for a moment, then disappears, leaving Sinbad unharmed.

GENIE'S VOICE
This is the entrance.

FULL SHOT WHAT SINBAD SEES CAVE ENTRANCE AND DRAGON (H-S-D)
A short distance inside the cave entrance stands the huge and terrible dragon. It is almost as big as a cyclops and about twice as long. It is secured to one wall of the cave by a huge chain fastened around its neck. The chain passes through a hole in the wall of the cave. The dragon tugs at the chain, snarling and growling. The dragon releases another blast of flame.

MEDIUM SHOT SINBAD AND GENIE (Y)
Sinbad is startled and impressed. He follows the Genie.

EXT. NICHE IN ROCKS - DAY
MEDIUM SHOT BIG CHAIN WINCH (S) as Sinbad and the Genie move into the scene, approaching the large wooden wheel (full-size prop) around which the heavy chain is wrapped.

GENIE
Trim the wheel.

REVERSE SHOT GENIE (Y)

MEDIUM SHOT WINCH
Sinbad places the lamp on the ground and begins to turn the large wheel, winding up the chain.

GENIE
Inside the cave you will find another wheel. Turn it and loose the dragon again, so it may protect the entrance.

CLOSE SHOT (H-S-D)
Genie goes back into the lamp.

ANOTHER ANGLE (S)
When the chain is wound tight, Sinbad takes up the lamp again and moves off toward the cave entrance.

EXT. CAVE ENTRANCE
MEDIUM SHOT SINBAD AND DRAGON (H-S-D)
The dragon's head has been pulled over tight against the rock wall into which the chain disappears. It is snarling and struggling futilely. Sinbad slips past the dragon, moving along the opposite wall, his sword drawn.

INT. CAVE

446 MEDIUM SHOT SINBAD AND CHAIN WINCH (H-S-D) as Sinbad reaches the inside wheel controlling the dragon's chain. He turns the wheel, letting out the chain, allowing the dragon to move back into the center of the cave entrance. The task completed, he turns and looks deeper into the widening cavern, his face showing awe and amazement.

447 FULL SHOT WHAT SINBAD SEES (H-S-D)
The entrance cave opens out into a huge, high-ceilinged cavern which extends in several directions. Giant mushrooms sprout among the rock columns and stalagmites. The scene is lighted by a reddish glow, as from huge underground fires or pits of molten rock.

448 CLOSE SHOT SINBAD (S)
He stands bewildered by the sight, looking around in the various directions in which the cavern extends, not knowing how to begin his search for Parisa.

INT. SOKURAH'S LABORATORY

449 MEDIUM SHOT SOKURAH AND PARISA (H-Y-D)
The magician's lab resembles a medieval torture chamber. One wall is covered with beakers and flagons of various substances used in his arts. There are two large work tables, one of them partly covered by a long glass case. Scattered around the room are several ancient torture devices. Most prominent of these is a huge rack, on which men were stretched until they were broken. Dangling from the rack, the ropes still passed beneath his arms, is the skeleton of an ancient warrior. His bony hands still clutch his sword and shield. The magician stands at one of the work tables, on which rests a large crystal. Parisa stands on the table beside the crystal.

INT. LABORATORY

450 MEDIUM CLOSE SHOT SOKURAH AND PARISA (H-Y-D)

PARISA
Why are you doing this? Why did you bring me here?

SOKURAH
Now -- behold your answer!

The inside of the crystal clears, showing Sinbad standing in the cave, looking about him. The magic lamp is visible at his waist. Parisa reacts, drawing in a sharp breath.

(smiling)
You see?... I knew I could trust your Sinbad to bring the lamp to us.

451 CLOSER SHOT (H-Y-D)
Parisa peers into the crystal.

PARISA
(calling)
Sinbad! Sinbad!

INT. CAVERN

452 MEDIUM SHOT SINBAD (S)
as he reacts to the sound of Parisa's voice.

PARISA'S VOICE
(strong echo effect)
Sinbad! Sinbad!

The sound seems to come from very far away, but it is quite clear and unmistakably Parisa's voice. Sinbad listens, moves a few stops and listens again. The sound is definitely stronger in a certain direction. CAMERA PANS with Sinbad as he moves off quickly in the direction of the voice.

INT. LABORATORY

453 CLOSE SHOT PARISA AND CRYSTAL (H-Y-D)
Within the crystal we see Sinbad run, then pause, listening again.

INT. CAVERN

453 MEDIUM LONG SHOT ANOTHER ANGLE SINBAD (H-S-D) as he approaches and crosses a huge natural arch which spans a glowing pool of molten rock. He stops, looks down o.s.

454 DOWN ANGLE NATURAL ARCH AND MOLTEN POOL (X Int. of Volcano) as seen from Sinbad's POV. Below the arch the pit of boiling rock bubbles and churns, bubbles of gas burst through the glowing lava.

455 ANOTHER ANGLE SINBAD (S) as he finishes looking, then he crosses the arch and moves on in search of Parisa, pausing before a division in the cavern.

PARISA'S VOICE
Sinbad... This way!

The echo effect is still present, but Parisa's voice seems louder and closer. Encouraged, Sinbad hurries down the right branch of the cavern.

INT. LABORATORY

457 MEDIUM SHOT SOKURAH AND PARISA (H-Y-D)
as they look into the crystal, watching Sinbad's approach.

(smiling)
He hurries to seek his Princess...
I must prepare to welcome him.

Sokurah moves to the nearest wall and raises a large wooden lever which operates an unseen chain.

INT. CAVERN

458 FULL SHOT SINBAD AND SOKURAH'S CASTLE (H-S-D) as Sinbad rounds a corner and comes in sight of the ruined castle. He stops, amazed by the sight. He walks closer to the castle.
as he watches, the huge front door of the castle swings slowly open. He draws his sword and moves quickly toward the open doorway, passing through it into the darkness beyond.

INT. LABORATORY

The magician moves to the table. Parisa backs away.

SOKURAH
I warn you -- if you speak, urge Sinbad to do as I ask...

PARISA
He will do what his own heart says.

as the door is thrown open and Sinbad strides into the room, his sword held before him. CAMERA PANS with him as he moves into the room, bringing the magician into the scene. Sokurah faces Sinbad, smiling coldly.

SOKURAH
(looking to Parisa)
Are you harmed, Princess?

-- I am all right.

as he looks from Parisa to Sokurah, tense with a restrained rage.

SOKURAH
I led you here for a reason.
In exchange for the lamp, I will restore the Princess.

as this hard truth is considered. Abruptly he makes his decision.

SINBAD
You shall have it when we have reached the safety of our ship.
MEDIUM SHOT SINBAD SOKURAH (Y)

(smiling)

I shall mix the potion.

Sokurah goes to the shelf and begins mixing ingredients on the work table holding the glass case.

SCENES 466 THROUGH 468 OMITTED.

ANOTHER ANGLE (H-S-D)

Sokurah mixes the eggshell into the potion, then points to a spot about the middle of the floor of the case. He stirs a mixture carefully in a low beaker. Sinbad moves into scene carrying Parisa (H-prop) in his hand.

SOKURAH

(indicating)

It is ready, Princess.

He sets her gently on the table top.
CLOSE DOWN SHOT TABLE TOP AND PARISA (Y)
as Parisa moves to the spot indicated and lies down.

MEDIUM SHOT SINBAD SOKURAH AND PARISA (MODEL) (Y) Sinbad still holds his drawn sword and stands a short distance from Sokurah, keeping an eye on him. Sokurah places the beaker of powder he has mixed on the floor of the case near Parisa. He then ignites the powder with a burning candle he takes from the table. The powder sputters and burns, not unlike the candle which was at Parisa’s bod when she became small. The magician closes the top of the glass case over Parisa. The burning powder gives off a thick smoke which fills the inside of the case, obscuring the tiny form of Parisa.

CLOSE SHOT SINBAD (Y)
reacting as he watches the process. He gives Sokurah a threatening stare.

SINBAD
(tense whisper)
If this harms her, you are a dead man.

CLOSE SHOT SOKURAH (Y)

SOKURAH
Behold!

CLOSE SHOT SINBAD (Y)
Sinbad looks to the case, reacts with amazement. CAMERA
HOLDS for several seconds on his increasing joy.

SINBAD
Parisa!
475 MEDIUM CLOSE SHOT PARISA AND GLASS CASE (Y)
The smoke within the case has begun to clear and from it emerges the full-sized form of Parisa.

476 ANOTHER ANGLE SOKURAH AND PARISA (Y) as the magician steps forward and folds back the top of the glass case again. The last wisps of the smoke dissipate into the air. Parisa lies still for a moment, then her eyelids flutter and open. Sokurah moves back from the table.

PARISA
(weakly)
Sinbad...

SINBAD
(coming forward)
I am here, my Princess.

Sinbad takes her hand, lifting it in his. Parisa sees her hand and arm being upraised, seeming to realize for the first time that she has returned to normal. She gives a cry of relief, then sits up, with Sinbad's help. Sinbad passes his arm around her shoulders, steadying her. Parisa seems almost overcome with joy, but she gains strength quickly.

477 ANOTHER ANGLE FEATURING SOKURAH (Y) as he steps forward a pace, his face determined.

SOKURAH
And now, if you please -- the lamp.

He makes a gesture as though to reach for it, but Sinbad quickly brings up his sword, forcing him to halt.

SINBAD
You shall not have it before we stand safely on deck.
Sokurah stares with smoldering rage at Sinbad. Finally he gives a brief nod.

SOKURAH

Very well. Let us go.

While Sinbad helps Parisa from the table, starting to load her across the room toward the door. Sokurah turns to stare hard at the skeleton dangling from the rack.

His eyes burn with an intense force.

As Sinbad and Parisa pass near the rack, the skeleton suddenly drops to the floor. Parisa reacts with a startled cry and Sinbad turns to face the skeleton, which remains upright before them.

His eyes are huge and compelling.

(fierce whisper)

Kill!... Kill!

as the skeleton abruptly comes to life, lifting its sword and shield into position, making a deadly lunge at Sinbad. Sinbad pushes Parisa aside to a position of safety, sidestepping the sword of the skeleton and bringing his own sword up to defend himself. The lamp is at Sinbad's waist, but he fights vigorously, being driven backward toward the door of the lab.

Parisa -- run!

Parisa moves to the door and opens it, but she cannot force herself to leave Sinbad, nor to take her eyes from him. As the skeleton forces Sinbad toward the door, she moves out, closely followed by the battling Sinbad and skeleton, then by Sokurah, still intently staring at the skeleton.
as they move out of the lab and into the courtyard, the battle continuing. Sokurah follows the skeleton, still directing it. The courtyard is bounded by crumbling walls and from its center a ruined spiral staircase curls upward to end in mid-air. The skeleton forces Sinbad backward relentlessly, remaining unharmed even though Sinbad succeeds in passing his sword completely through the fleshless rib cage. Sinbad begins to climb backward up the stairway, still parrying the thrusts of the skeleton.

reacting with fear at Sinbad's plight as he climbs backward up the stairway. She starts to run up the stairway to follow Sinbad, but Sokurah grabs her by the arm, hurling her roughly aside.

An evil smile begins to light his face as he stares upward, motivating the skeleton up the stairway.

The skeleton seems to fight with renewed fury as Sinbad moves backward up the last few steps. At last he stands on the top step, fighting for his life. The skeleton makes a fierce lunge at Sinbad; Sinbad ducks under the skeleton's arms, seizing the center-pillar of the stairway, diving completely past the skeleton and whirling to face him again. The positions are now reversed. With half a dozen furious strokes of his sword Sinbad forces the skeleton up and off the top step of the ruined stairway. The skeleton plunges toward the rocks of the courtyard.

Sokurah stares for a horrified instant, then whirls and runs toward the door of his laboratory.

Sinbad sees Sokurah escaping; reacts. He lifts his sword and hurls it at the fleeing Sokurah.
as he is pinned to the heavy door by Sinbad's thrown sword, which passes through the folds of his cloak and sticks in the wood. He struggles to escape, but the cloak is wrapped about him in such a way that he can neither get loose nor turn to reach the handle of the sword. Sinbad moves into scene, yanks the sword from the door and holds its point at the magician's throat.

SINBAD

You will betray us no more!
Come!

Sokurah faces Sinbad's determined stare and his last resistance melts. With a grimace of defeat he turns and moves ahead of Sinbad's sword, into the laboratory.

INT. LABORATORY

SINBAD, SOKURAH AND PARISA

Sinbad and Parisa enter, still forcing Sokurah ahead of them at sword point. They move to the rock pedestal of a huge supporting column, from which protrudes a set of arm-and-leg chains set deeply into the rock.

SOKURAH

You made a bargain with me --

SINBAD

You promised safe conduct to the ship, then tried to kill me... We owe you nothing!

Sinbad takes Parisa's arm and they start to move off.

SOKURAH

You will regret this!

SINBAD

(quick smile)
I regret not doing this sooner.

He and Parisa move off quickly. CAMERA MOVES IN to CLOSE SHOT of Sokurah staring balefully after them.

INT. CAVERN OUTSIDE OF CASTLE

493 TWO SHOT SINBAD AND PARISA (S) as they emerge from the castle, making their way toward the cave entrance.

INT. LABORATORY

494 MEDIUM SHOT SOKURAH (Y) He is chained to the stone pedestal as we last saw him. He fastens his gaze on the chains that bind him; his eyes burn intensely.

495 CLOSE SHOT THE CHAINS (H-Y) As Sokurah's gaze intensifies, the slack chains begin to undulate as though they were alive. They twist about themselves grotesquely. There is a sound of grinding iron.

496 CLOSE SHOT SOKURAH (Y) The fire in his eyes burns brightly as he glares at the dancing chains.

496A INSERT: THE CHAINS (H-Y) as they twist and writhe, dust trickles from the socket of the eye-bolt which holds the chains fast into the stone. Suddenly the chains pull free from the wall.

496B FULL SHOT SOKURAH (Y) He runs to the table, his hands still dragging the chain fragments, to peer into the crystal ball.

INT. CAVERN NATURAL ARCH (H-S-D)

497 MEDIUM SHOT SINBAD AND PARISA as they approach the rock arch over the flaming pit, pausing on the castle side of the arch to get their breath. Parisa stares into the flaming pit, reminded of something which she cannot clearly recall.

INT. LABORATORY

497A SOKURAH AND CRYSTAL BALL (H-Y-D) Within the crystal ball Sokurah sees Sinbad and Parisa on the natural arch. In rage, Sokurah raises his hands high, then brings the weight of the massive chains down upon the crystal ball. As it shatters into a thousand fragments, there is a flash of lightning and a thunderous roar.
The thunderous roar, now multiplied a hundredfold as it echoes and reverberates through the underground cave, reaches Sinbad and Parisa in a cataclysmic crescendo. A massive bolt of lightning strikes the natural bridge and a huge chunk of the arch collapses into the flaming pit, leaving Sinbad and Parisa stranded on the castle side of the arch.

We are trapped!

Let us summon the Genie -- quickly!

She sets the lamp on the rock floor and rubs it three times.

From the land beyond beyond,
From the world past hope and fear,
I bid you, Genie, now appear!

Rope, be firm -- rope, hold fast.
509 MEDIUM LONG SHOT ARCH (H-S-D)
He hurls one end of it upward, out over the flaming pit.
It disappears o.s. and remains suspended by some unseen force.
The Genie then hands the free end of the rope to Sinbad and disappears into the lamp.

510 CLOSE SHOT SINBAD AND PARISA (Y)
Sinbad seizes the end of the golden rope.

SINBAD
Hold tight, Parisa.

He swings off.

510A MEDIUM LONG SHOT ARCH (H-S-D)

broken portion of the bridge to land safely on the far side.

511 ANOTHER ANGLE PARISA AND SINBAD (Y)
as they land. Parisa stares into the flaming pit below her.
Sinbad notices her troubled expression.

SINBAD
What is it, Princess?

512 DOWN ANGLE FLAMING PIT (X)
The molten rock bubbles and churns; flames dance on the surface.

PARISA'S VOICE
I remember! The Genie's poem --
'Into fiery rock
To rise you must fall'...

SCENES 513 THROUGH 515 OMITTED.

516 TWO SHOT SINBAD AND PARISA

PARISA
I made a promise to the Genie.
This is the fiery rock. The lamp must fall into it if he is ever to be free.

SINBAD
But if we lose his help now, we may never reach the ship alive...
CONTINUED:

PARISA
... And if the lamp falls into the flaming pit he may be destroyed.

SINBAD
(pauses thoughtfully)
Still, your promise must be kept.

Parisa nods slowly in agreement. She lifts the lamp, holds it for a brief moment as if in goodbye, then tosses it into the pit.

CLOSE SHOT FLAMING PIT AND LAMP (Y)
as the lamp sinks beneath the molten, bubbling surface.

TWO SHOT SINBAD AND PARISA (Y)
Parisa stares wistfully after the lamp.

PARISA

Goodbye...

Parisa takes Sinbad's hand. With his sword drawn, he leads the way toward the mouth of the cave.

ANOTHER ANGLE SOKURAH

INT. CAVERN

522 BACK TO SINBAD AND PARISA (S) as Sinbad completes the business of winding up the chain. It is held in place by a lock mechanism which engages teeth cut into the outside edge of the wheel. With the chain wound tight, Sinbad and Parisa move off toward the mouth of the cave.

INT. CAVE MOUTH

523 MEDIUM SHOT SINBAD PARISA AND DRAGON (H-S-D) as Sinbad and Parisa edge past the dragon on the opposite side of the cave from it. The dragon's neck and head have been pulled tight against the far wall.

524 TIGHT TWO SHOT SINBAD AND PARISA (Y) They have passed the dragon and are about to emerge into the full light of the outdoors. Suddenly Parisa reacts, giving a short scream, raising one arm in terror. Sinbad looks, reacts.

525 WHAT THEY SEE CAVE MOUTH FULL SHOT (H-S-D) Framed in the mouth of the cave is a huge cyclops. He stands glaring ferociously into the cave, arms outstretched, completely blocking the entrance.

526 MEDIUM LONG SHOT SINBAD PARISA AND CYCLOPS (H-S-D) Sinbad and Parisa hesitate for a moment, not knowing which way to turn and run. The cyclops takes a step forward, uttering a low growl. He is answered by the sound of the dragon o.s. snarling and yanking at his chain. Sinbad seizes Parisa's hand and runs back into the cave, toward the dragon.

CLOSE ANGLE SINBAD AND PARISA (Y)
They stare upward at the battling giants, overcome with awe at the sight.

UP ANGLE DRAGON AND CYCLOPS (H-S-D) as the cyclops uses his head as a battering ram against the chest of the dragon, seeming to stun the great beast with his blows.
The cyclops seizes the dragon around the neck, then uses his weight to twist the dragon off balance, slamming the dragon's head to the ground with earth-shaking force.

As the dragon makes a desperate effort at recovery, raising its head from the ground and coiling its neck to ward off the blows of the cyclops. The dragon opens its wide mouth and emits a blast of flame which envelops the head and shoulders of the cyclops. As the flame dies out, the cyclops staggers backward, stunned and dazed. The dragon struggles to its feet, moving after the cyclops.

SINBAD
Quickly, this is our chance!
They turn and run in the direction of the ship.

as it opens its mouth and emits another blast of withering flame.

The cyclops staggers and falls, and the dragon is upon him with a single lunge, clamping its huge jaws over the cyclops' chest and cracking the bones with a deadly bite. The cyclops writhes, then lies still. The dragon lifts its head and gives a bellow of triumph.

He runs from the cave and stands watching as the dragon, head uplifted, sounds its victory cry. He motions to the dragon. The dragon snarls, turns his head and starts off after Sinbad and Parisa.

SINBAD
Barani...?

PARISA
... His one wish was to sail the seas with you.

The Genie slides down a rigging rope, dropping into the scene beside Sinbad and Parisa, who react with amazement.

GENIE
You called for Barani -- I am here!

the Caliph swore everlasting peace over large flagons of wine...
And the boy, Barani, dreamed of the time when he, too, would be a great captain like Sinbad, and wed a beautiful princess....

FADE OUT.
